Questions Abound as Township Tries To Plan for More Affordable Housing

What the density and mix of housing units on West Drive off Alexander Street should be was debated at length at Township Committee Monday night, as the Township Housing Board sought guidance on how to implement the affordable housing program.

The key question was: should the Township accept the $1.6 million federal Housing and Urban Development grant for 20 units of low income rental which a previous Committee had decided could be located on the West Drive site?

If so, should the West Drive site — eight acres which Princeton University has pledged to make available to the Township for its affordable housino prooram — he developed entirely as rental units? A mix of rental and sales? All sales — forget the HUD money?

At what density should a project on West Drive be built? It is zoned for 12 units an acre. There are wetlands on the site, which are in the process of being delineated by the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection, but the University is expected to give the Township six "buildable" acres and two additional acres, probably wetlands, as buffer. Does that mean 72 units (12 times six) or 96 (12 times eight) units?

The Township's affordable housing ordinance specifies a mix of 50 percent market units, 50 percent market rate units. The affordable housing program which was predicated on that ratio and the various ways the Township intends to implement the ordinance to generate 275 units of Mt. Laurel housing was approved by Judge Eugene Serpentelli a year ago.

The ordinance was adopted in November, 1984, at the beginning of a real estate boom. Recently the market has been in a slump. Are the slow sales in market rate housing at Griggs Farm, a mixed development, attributable to the slump, to the 50/50 mix, or to both? Should the ratio and the ordinance be changed, and what would Judge Serpentelli say?

If this account of a Township Committee meeting contains more question marks than straight reporting it is because the meeting on which it is based was similarly full of questions. Committee was

Recreation Director Don Barr Will Leave Post after 26 Years

Recreation Director R. Donald Barr will step down at the end of the year.

Mr. Barr, 55, is not leaving to take another position somewhere else, although he may end up doing just that. Rather, he has decided that after 26 years in the job at Princeton and 31 years in the recreation field that it is time for a change.

He told the Recreation Board at its last meeting that he very much wants to see the two construction projects at Hilltop Park and Grover Park completed before he leaves. Completion is targeted for the end of the year, although the parks will not be playable before the summer of 1991.

"I think it is time for a different career," Mr. Barr said. "I'm not positive what it will be, but I do want to do something." He said the decision had been a difficult one, because he has enjoyed an excellent working relationship with the Borough and the Township and with the Recreation Board and staff.

"I couldn't ask for a better board or better cooperation

Complaint Against Borough Patrolman Dismissed Because of Late Filing Date

At a disciplinary hearing Monday evening, the Borough's Public Safety Committee refused to hear a complaint brought by Borough Police Chief Michael Carnevale against Patrolman David Dudeck. The Committee — composed of Councilpersons Mark Freda, Mildred Trotman and Lucy Mackenzie, and Borough Administrator Mark Gordon — dismissed the complaint because it was not filed within a 45-day period mandated by State law.

The hearing was held in public session at the request of Patrolman Dudeck, who has been on the force 6½ years. The meeting packed the Borough's Council Room, with many in attendance off-duty Borough police officers.

Chief Carnevale filed his complaint April 3, almost six months after the events with which it deals. The charges stemmed from a complaint to the Borough Police Department by Princeton University concerning Patrolman Dudeck's conduct on October 6, 1989, during a shoplifting and harassment investigation.

The investigation involved shoplifting and harassment at WaWa's University Place store. When Department patrols, including Patrolman Dudeck, responded to the scene, they learned that the suspects had already fled. The officers were led to dormitory room A-271 at Forbes College.

Patrolman Dudeck and another officer entered the room of Gordon Bailey, a Princeton University sophomore from Alabama, and woke him up. "While in the dormitory room," Chief Carnevale's complaint charged, "Officer Dudeck physically and verbally abused Mr. Bailey. The student later sought medical attention for emotional distress at McCosh Infirmary.

Chief Carnevale also charged Patrolman Dudeck with "engaging in harsh, violent, profane and insolent language."

Pops Concert Is Moving To Mercer County Park

The Fourth of July pops concert by the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra and fireworks will be held in Mercer County Park this year, not on the Princeton University playing fields as in previous years.

"We've outgrown the University space," says Carol Munson, who was one of the organizers of last year's event on behalf of the Princeton/Mercer Chapter of the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra League. The League uses the proceeds from the pops concert to fund free NJSO concerts for school children.

The pops concert and fireworks have become increasingly popular, attracting a crowd estimated at 10,000 in recent years. University officials became concerned over issues of crowd control and security, and last year said that the

from the municipal officials. I have a wonderful staff. Jack Roberts [assistant director] has been with me for 20 years, the other staff and the maintenance people have also been around a long time.

"But if I can see these two park projects completed, I will be content that a number of things have been accomplished for Princeton."

When Mr. Barr began on November 30, 1964 as Princeton's first (and only) recreation director, the Community Park playing fields were in place but nothing else of the recreation complex that Princeton residents enjoy today. He says the one thing that has haunted him all these years is that those hall fields that looked so green and capable of sustaining games and practices for many teams for years to come were actually laid out on top of tree stumps and debris.

Over the years, the stumps decayed and the ground sank in spots. The Recreation Department was hard put to it to fill in the low spots each spring so the fields would be playable. After Grover Park is renovated with two standard Little League fields and a combination baseball/softball field, and after a new multi-purpose field with lights is created at Hilltop Park, the Recreation Department would like to renovate the Community Park fields.

The 15 tennis courts and the tennis backboard were the first part of the recreation complex to be built after Mr. Barr arrived. Then came the tennis parking lot by the ball fields, and in the summer of 1967 the swimming pool complex opened. It was the first outdoor deck level pool in the country. Today, all large pools follow this design, Mr. Barr says.

The first municipal platform tennis courts were added during Mr. Barr's tenure, followed by two bocce courts and two additional platform tennis courts. The pond, amphitheatre, picnic areas and walking trails were created at Community Park North in the early 1970s.

Programs for senior citizens and the summer day camp were instituted under his leadership, and so was the revolving fund into which participation fees are placed. The money can more quickly be used for new or expanded programs than would be the case if it were handled through the municipal operating budget.

But throughout the 26 years, not a single new hall field was added to accommodate the growing number of soccer, softball, baseball and lacrosse players — adult as well as youth, women as well as men.

The Community Park pool will be opening shortly, the tennis courts are already in play. Mr. Barr's busy season is here, and in addition to his regular responsibilities he will be keeping an eye on the progress in the two parks under construction.

But when he leaves he will have the satisfaction of knowing that at long last Princeton has some new and improved hall fields.

—Barbara L. Johnson

STEPPING DOWN: Donald Barr, executive director of the Recreation Department, has decided the time has come for him to do something different. Mr. Barr has been the Princeton recreation director for nearly 26 years.

Complaint

Borough Attorney Michael Herbert said the University did not report the incident to the Borough until sometime in mid-November. "As soon as it was reported, the Police Department conducted an investigation," he said. "Statements were taken by witnesses in early December. The Princeton Police Department does not cover up allegations against a police officer."

In his complaint, Chief Carnevale said, "the verbal and physical abuse of a member of the public by an officer must be condemned in the strongest terms. Ordinarily, such conduct would warrant discharge, demotion or a long period of suspension."

Citing, however, Patrolman Dudeck's "years of excellent service and in the absence of prior disciplinary infractions," the Chief recommended a three-day suspension from the Department without pay.

Council Gives Okay To New Greenmarket

A Greenmarket on Hulfish Street, in a plaza behind the Nassau Inn, was approved by Borough Council at its meeting last week. The market will open Friday, and will remain in operation through Thanksgiving. Hours will be 10:30 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Council had been expected to approve the request by the Stony Brook Millstone Watershed Association for a market which would sell New Jersey produce. Most items will be grown through organic or low-spray production methods, said Helen Atthowe, the market's manager.

Among the foods to be sold — depending on the season — will be lettuce, other greens, tomatoes, vegetables, melons, raspberries, blueberries, apples and peaches. Also expected to be available will be eggs, honey, herbs, flowers, pies, cookies, and breads.

The Hulfish Street plaza is one of three Palmer Square sites set aside for use by the public under an omnibus agreement between the Borough and Collins Development, owner of Palmer Square.

The green in front of the Post Office and the Hulfish Street Plaza adjacent to The Nature Company are the other two.

Council last week also approved the next three dates of Communiversity. Unlike past years — when some Central Business District merchants came to Council to oppose Communiversity — there were no objectors in the audience.

The dates are April 27, 1991, April 25, 1992, and April 24, 1993.

In other business, Council approved the 1990 municipal budget in a public hearing. Adoption is expected shortly.

The budget totals $12,363,063, up about $2 million from 1989. The tax rate will rise 12 cents per $100 of assessed valuation, to 79 cents.

The owner of a house assessed at $150,000 last year paid $1,005 in municipal taxes. This year's tax bill will be $1,185, an increase of $180.

Council also approved five to seven percent increases in salary for all Borough employees, with the exception of those covered by unions. The salaries for the Mayor and members of Council, however, will remain the same. Mayor Barbara Sigmund earns $6,500 per year and members of Council are paid $5,500 annually.

All salary increases are retroactive to January 1, 1990.

Intruder Is Confronted Inside Vandeventer Home

An intruder ran out of a house on Vandeventer Avenue Friday morning, after he was confronted by a second-floor occupant.

According to Capt. Thomas Michaud, the intruder apparently slipped the lock on the front door of the building, which houses apartments, and began rifling rooms on the first floor. A resident on the second floor heard noises but did not identify them as ones caused by an intruder.

When she heard the noises upstairs, the 36-year-old occupant left her bedroom to investigate and came face-to-face with a black male, who had a round face and was wearing long gold chains, a red T-shirt and dark-colored sweat pants.

Upon seeing the occupant, he ran out of the house, Capt. Michaud said. Police were called at 11 a.m.

INTRODUCING THE DUX® BED.
THE BED YOUR BACK HAS BEEN ACHING FOR.®

For years you've been told that a firm bed is better for your back.

Well, in Sweden, the people who make the Dux Bed have proven otherwise. They've proven that a firm bed resists, rather than conforms to, the position of the

In a Dux Bed, the spine is straight body. So the body must constantly adjust in order to get comfortable.

Small wonder people wake up tired. And with backaches.

The Dux Bed is designed to help eliminate back problems and give you a more restful night's sleep.

It has two layers of innersprings instead of the usual one. The upper layer moulds itself to the contours of your body, allowing your spine to lie straight. The bottom layer acts as a buffer against harsh movement, and provides firm support.

So come in and try the Dux Bed. Lie in it; take a nap.

You're going to love it.

Your back will, too.

From the Governor's Desk

by Jim Florio

April ended with a spate of stories about my first hundred days in office — a tradition that dates back to Franklin Roosevelt. Some people compared my level of activity to FDR's, which is flattering.

But I know that the real test comes after the first hundred days. I will be judged by whether I've helped New Jersey to continue to be the place of opportunity for our children that is has been for us. FDR once said, "The people want action and they want action now." That was true when he took office 57 years ago and it's true today in New Jersey.

For too long we've put off dealing with major challenges. So I've put into effect a tough, new law to reform an unfair car insurance system that charged drivers too much and demanded too little from insurance companies. I've appointed the nation's first environmental prosecutor to crack down on polluters who endanger our drinking water, our air and our beautiful Jersey shore. And I've set out to cut out waste in government. Calling back state cars was just one step I took to make sure hardworking men and women get a dollar's worth of value for every dollar they send to Trenton.

And now I'm trying to put our state's finances in order. You can't spend what you don't have. Anyone who has put together a family budget knows that. But that's exactly what the state has been doing.

I've ended the runaway state spending spree by slashing two billion dollars from the budget. The budget I proposed is actually smaller than last year's. Every department is feeling the pinch and we've reluctantly had to cut some programs that really help people.

That has to happen so we can get our state back on sound financial footing; so we can maintain New Jersey as a state of opportunity.

At the heart of my proposal is a way to bring real property tax relief. High property taxes are forcing hardworking people out of the homes they built up over a lifetime. I want to change that.

Under my plan families that earn less than $65,000 a year can get up to $500 in property tax relief, if the property tax they pay is more than five percent of their income. We'll finance this by increasing the state income tax for those most able to pay. For four out of five families in New Jersey that earn less than $70,000 a year that will mean no income tax increase at all. They won't pay a penny more.

This plan has led to another comparison with Robin Hood. That's one with which I'll have to disagree. My proposal is not about stealing from the rich and giving to the poor. It's about helping the families squeezed in the middle, which happens to be most of us.

For too long, our state has made the middle class people pay the freight for out-of-control spending. It's time we cut the middle class a break.

Speeder Also Charged With Drug Offenses

A Mercerville resident, stopped last week for speeding in the Borough, has also been charged with two drug violations.

Michael Mongillo, 35, was stopped by Ptl. Christopher Quaste at 1 Saturday morning for speeding on Bayard Lane. As he was talking to the driver, Ptl. Quaste smelled an odor of marijuana.

During a search, the officer found two small plastic bags containing marijuana in the suspect's pants pocket and two partially-burned, hand-rolled roaches in the car's ash tray.

Mr. Mongillo was charged with possession of less than 50 grams of marijuana, possession of drugs in a motor vehicle, speeding and no insurance. Issued summonses and released, he is scheduled to appear in Borough court on Monday.

Charged with Receiving

A 19-year-old Hamilton Township man had been charged with receiving stolen property, following an incident Friday morning outside the Terrace Club on Washington Road.

The resident, Kevin O'Donovan, had been an occupant in a car which Ptl. Curtiss Vanchoff and Ptl. Ronald Wohlschlegel, while on patrol, had observed parked partially in the roadway and partially on the sidewalk. As Ptl. Vanchoff approached the car to see if anything was wrong, he noticed a person in the area near a driveway and when the suspect saw the officer he started to walk away.

After a short footrace, Ptl. Vanchoff apprehended O'Donovan, who had in his possession a microphone stand ($75), pair of boots ($40) and a $10 album. Reasoning the items had been taken from the club, the officer went inside and checked. "Oh, yeah, they came from out of here," replied a club member.

After the officers ascertained the items had indeed been stolen from the club, they arrested and charged O'Donovan. He was later released and faces a hearing Monday in Borough court. One of three other occupants in the car told police that they had been cruising, looking for girls.

$2,500 Generator Stolen From Griggs Farm Site

A Honda 5000 generator valued at $2,500 and two sledge hammers worth $30 each were stolen last week from a storage trailer at the Griggs Farm Development construction site off Route 206.

Township police report that a padlock securing a chain link fence across an access road that led to the storage trailer had been cut as had a lock securing the trailer door. The items are owned by the E. Allen Reeves, Inc. of Abington, Pa.

The Princeton Lions Club will hold its first annual Volleyball Tournament Fund Raiser Tuesday evening at 7 at the Princeton High School gym. Admission is $3.

Participating teams will be PHS students, PHS teachers, members of the Princeton PBA No. 130 and WHWH. Proceeds will go to PHS Scholarships, Family Food Fund and PBA community projects.

WORKING HARD: John Witherspoon School sixth graders, from left, Kathryn Nygreen, Claire Miller, Brian Rappaport, and Wanza Carter are among the school's Super Saturday Volunteers who will be working hard to raise money for the annual environmental education trip. Super Saturday will take place — rain or shine — from 9:30 to 2 on Saturday.

tric Honda push mower, valued at $714.39, was stolen last week from an unlocked garage attached to a home on Pardee Circle.

Borough police report the theft of a 1982 white Saab, which was parked Friday in the lot on Franklin Avenue opposite the Princeton Medical Center. The locked car, owned by a Princeton resident, was taken between 1 and 6:30 in the morning.

A camera and a Walkman radio worth a combined $180 were stolen overnight from a Univeristy student's backpack which had been left on a back porch at the Terrace Club.

In another campus theft Sunday evening, a student reported that her $90 olive-green raincoat had been taken from inside the main entrance of the Rockefeller Dining Hall where she had left it unattended.

More Bicycles Stolen

Four more bicycles were reported stolen last week from the University campus.

A blue Trek mountain bike, valued at $550, was taken overnight from the Colonial Club; an 18-speed Diamond Back mountain bike, valued at $400, was taken from outside Tiger Inn, and a Raleigh 10-speed, valued at $200, was taken from a rear yard at 2 Dickinson Place. All three had been unlocked, police said.

A 10-speed black Nishiki model, locked to itself and valued at $350, was taken overnight from the Quadrangle Club. All four victims are students.

Borough police report that someone last week apparently attempted — unsuccessfully — to steal three cars parked in the Stanworth housing area off Bayard Lane. All three incidents took place overnight between Thursday and Friday morning. In each, there were pry marks and signs that an attempt had been made to break off the cars' ignition switch.

In one of two incidents on South Stanworth Drive, the left rear vent window of a 1989 Honda was smashed and several cassette tapes taken. In another, entry was gained into a 1990 Toyota by breaking a small rear window to reach in and unlock the door.

Tapes valued at $30 were taken from a 1986 Chevrolet which was parked on North Stanworth Drive. The car was not locked.

Meeting on New Zone To be Held Wednesday

At a special meeting scheduled for Wednesday evening, May 16, Borough Council was expected to press forward to develop an ordinance establishing two new educational zones in the Borough, E-3 and E-4. The ordinance would act to regulate development of Princeton University, Princeton Theological Seminary, and Westminster Choir College in areas of their campuses that abut residential zones.

The aspect that has provoked the most controversy is development in the University's Engineering Quadrangle, an area adjacent to Murray Place. Residents of this and adjoining streets have been closely involved for a number of months in contributing ideas to the new ordinance.

Representatives of the three institutions and of the neighborhoods concerned have been invited to the Wednesday meeting, which is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. in Borough Hall.

"We are closing in on the process," said Mr. Reed. "We want to see if it is possible to introduce the ordinance Tuesday, or soon thereafter. We would probably have a month before the final public hearing."

Community Forum on Cults

Allen Tate Wood

A community forum on techniques of destructive cults will be held Thursday at 7:30 in the Princeton High School auditorium. It is being co-sponsored by the Princeton High School PTO and the Princeton Youth Fund.

Allen Tate Wood, originally from Princeton, will be the featured speaker. He will discuss the structure and form of the social systems in cults and the techniques employed by cult recruiters and trainers.

Mr. Wood is a former chief political officer and state leader of the Unification Church. He is now a consultant, writer, and lecturer concentrating on the cult phenomenon, and a counselor to former cult members and their families.

The public is invited to attend.

He noted that two additions to the Engineering Quadrangle are currently before the Regional Planning Board for concept review, and that the Seminary is actively planning for an addition to its library.

"I feel the ordinance should be adopted so these will go through the Planning Board on the basis of the revised ordinance," said Mr. Reed.

Mayhem Near Marita's: Student Is Assaulted

A 21-year-old Princeton University student was surrounded by five men in their 20s and then assaulted by one, after he had emerged from Marita's Restaurant on Nassau Street Monday evening.

The victim, accompanied by a companion, had just left the restaurant around 10:30 and had started to walk on the sidewalk, police said, when he was surrounded by five young men, all white males. One of the five, described as 5-8 with short brown hair and a stocky build, began punching the victim, knocking him to the ground. The five then walked away.

The victim's companion, Capt. Thomas Michaud said, re-entered the restaurant to call police. When he emerged, his friend was missing — having left the scene, Capt. Michaud said, to visit the University's McCosh Infirmary where he was treated for a laceration above his left eye, an injury to his jaw, a contusion on the back of his head and abrasions of his knees, elbow and shoulder.

A day later, Capt. Michaud reported that the victim has not been interviewed — yet. "The witness is not saying much," he added. "He is only giving what he has to."

Fire Call at Riverside: Student Pushes Button

There was a fire call last Wednesday morning at the Riverside School. There was some smoke but no fire and no one was injured.

According to Lt. Mario Musso, a fourth-grade student had pushed an emergency lighting system test button located in a hallway in the east wing of the school. Pushing the button will turn on emergency lighting in the hallway; after a while the lights should turn off automatically, Lt. Musso said.

However, when a teacher saw smoke coming from the test control box, she activated an alarm to evacuate the school. Township police were called at 11:51 by the alarm company. Three pieces of apparatus and about a dozen firemen responded to the fire call issued by police.

One of the veteran firemen at the scene, Tom Johnson, is an electrician. He reported that a small transformer in the alarm system activated by the student had malfunctioned and burned out, causing the smoke condition.

Tree Limbs Fall on Cars During Thursday's Storm

During a storm Thursday evening that generated heavy rain and strong winds, there were two incidents of tree limbs falling on parked cars in the Township.

At 7:10, a tree limb and electrical wires fell on a 1988 Audi parked on Birch Avenue where the owner resides. The limb dented the roof, broke a radio antenna and cracked a rear side view mirror, police said. Public Service workmen were notified to come and remove the wires.

Packet Hawkers Nixed

A request by The Princeton Packet to place newspaper hawkers in various locations in Princeton Borough was rejected by Council at last week's meeting. After the vote, Council President Marvin Reed noted that the rejection might become a First Amendment issue.

The Bill of Rights' guarantee of freedom of the press has been cited by newspaper publishers when municipalities have attempted to control the placement of newspaper vending machines on public streets. This right has been traditionally upheld in the courts.

Robert N. Nielsen, single copy sales manager for the newspaper, had asked that persons selling newspapers be permitted at main intersections of Route 206 and other high-traffic areas from 7 a.m. to noon on Tuesdays and Fridays.

Reasons of safety were given by several Council members for rejecting the request.

AT OPENING CEREMONIES at the Princeton Health Care Center were, first row, from left, Rosalie Fox, administrator, Princeton Medical Group, Phyllis Marchand, deputy mayor of Princeton Township; Fong Wei, M.D., managing director of Princeton Medical Group and Princeton Health Care Center; Thomas Fulmer, Fulmer & Wolfe, Architects; second row, Pete Callaway of N.T. Membership Drive Set By Community Council

The 1990 membership drive for The Council of Community Services begins in mid-May. Individuals, agencies and business organizations will be contacted by mail to request their financial support of the Council's work in the greater Princeton area.

As with many United Way member agencies, the council is responsible for raising an increased proportion of its operating funds for the coming fiscal year. The Council expects to earn 40% of its total budget for 1990-91, which is approximately double the percentage raised for the previous fiscal year. This clearly will be a challenge, and the membership drive will be an important source of funds for the ongoing work of the Council.

Whether it be assistance in the creation of a new Alzheimer's support group managed by the Princeton Homemaker Home Health Aide Service, publication of a regularly updated Child Care Directory, advocacy for a youth activities center or a study of respite care possibilities for caregivers of seniors, membership dollars are important to the work of the Princeton Area Council of Community Services.

Membership committee volunteers include Shep Bell, Eleanor Colston, Aline Lenaz, Eileen Russo, Elear .. Speers and Amy Trachtenberg.

Princeton Dems to Meet To Hear Candidates

The Princeton Community Democratic Organization (PCDO) invites the public to a meeting to hear Democratic candidates who are running for office in the June primary election. The meeting will be held Sunday, at 7:30 p.m. at the Suzanne Patterson Center, behind Borough Hall.

Nine candidates have accepted invitations to appear, make brief statements, and answer questions from a panel and from the audience. They are: Michael Washington and Kate Litvak, running for Township Committee; Mildred Trotman and Marvin Reed, for Borough Council; Marguerite Chandler, for United States Congress; Leon Colovita and Hal English, for Mercer County Board of Freeholders; Sam Plumeri Jr., for sheriff; and Molly Merlino for county clerk. Senator Bill Bradley has been invited, but his response has not yet been received.

"This is a wonderful opportunity to hear the Democratic candidates and learn their stands on the issues before the contests heat up in the fall," said Elizabeth Boyd, president of PCDO. "Everyone is welcome."

Health Department Seen As Functioning Well

The Regional Health Department has been without one of two full-time sanitary inspectors since the Commission fired Drew Scalessa in January. Just a few weeks later, the Department head, Health Officer Patrick Hanson, resigned.

The Department is functioning in spite of these losses, said Council President Marvin Reed, an assessment agreed with by Councilwoman Lucy Mackenzie.

Mr. Reed noted that an interim health officer has been working Tuesday nights and Saturdays, and that part-time sanitary inspectors have been called in to assist Janet Betts, the Department's only sanitary inspector.

"The housing inspection system is working out well too," said Mr. Reed. He noted that part-time Housing Inspector Rocky Innocenzi has agreed to work on a full-time basis.

Mr. Reed said he expects the new health officer, when appointed, to assess the situation and make a determination of future personnel needs.

Health Commission members have begun a preliminary screening of applicants for health officer. The deadline for applications was April 30.

Bilingual Students To Go to Littlebrook

Spanish-speaking students now attending Community Park and Riverside Schools, who need the help of a bilingual program, will be bused to Littlebrook School in September. A consolidated Spanish bilingual program will be housed there.

The School Board last week approved this action as part of a larger redistricting plan, which moves district lines in order to reduce overcrowding at Community Park School.

Several Spanish-speaking parents in the audience were against the plan to have their children bused to Littlebrook. They wanted the youngsters to continue at Community Park, their neighborhood school.

Board member Marjorie Smith abstained, and new member Gerald Groves voted against the plan.

The district line between Community Park and Littlebrook was changed from Harrison Street to Walnut Lane/Chestnut Street, between Nassau Street and Cuyler/Ewing Streets.

"We are trying to arrange for busing for these students on a hazardous route basis," said Board President Joel Cooper. "They have to cross Harrison Street at several places, and some streets have no sidewalks."

Talks are under way with the Borough and Township on this issue, he said. Municipalities must assume all costs for hazardous route busing.

Several Princeton High School students spoke at last week's Board meeting against the school's proposed new attendance policy. This would cut the number of permitted absences from 18 to 12. There would continue to be no distinction between excused and unexcused absences. In addition, a student who is late to class three times would have one absence added to his or her record.

A PHS teacher, William Humes, spoke of the difficulties the current policy creates for a person trying to teach students, who are permitted under the current policy to be absent ten percent of the time.

Dr. Cooper suggested that PHS Assistant Principal Owen Snyder consider a new, more gradual approach. He asked whether there could be a less abrupt transition from the middle school's system of excused absences, and suggested that high school freshmen begin with the middle school system.

"They could move from that to the nondiscriminate system

Barbara B. Sigmund

Mayor Remains 'Stable'

Mayor Barbara B. Sigmund, who entered Princeton Medical Center May 2 for treatment of pneumonia, remains in stable condition, according to a hospital spokesperson.

The Mayor left her hospital bed Saturday night to appear at a benefit for the Chamber Symphony of Princeton at the Princeton Pike Corporate Center. The benefit was dedicated to her.

Mrs. Sigmund is being treated for pneumonia, an illness associated with her treatment for cancer, and has received transfusions and blood platelets. The latter promotes blood clotting.

Council President Marvin Reed was just one of many visitors to her hospital room this past week. He stopped in on Sunday to go over a couple of Borough-related items. "Her spirit," he reports, "is always incredible."

On Tuesday, the Mayor told Mr. Reed she hoped to be out of the hospital Wednesday afternoon to show the new affordable housing units on John/Clay Streets and Hamilton Avenue at an open house for a number of invited State officials.

She and her husband, Paul Sigmund, along with several friends, are planning a trip to Israel in early June.

THEIR GARDEN ON VIEW: Elizabeth Fillo, Stephen Fillo and Carl Fuchs, Mrs. Fillo's brother and garden manager, spruce up their garden for the tour of gardens sponsored by the Stony Brook-Millstone Watershed Association. The walk, through three different gardens in Princeton, will take place Saturday, May 26.

— where there is no discrimination between an excused and nonexcused absence," said Dr. Cooper. "They could start at some relevant point, say the second year. When it begins to appear they can't handle the nondiscriminate policy, they could move back to the former one."

Mr. Snyder was expected to come back before the School Board on Tuesday evening for further discussion of the new attendance policy, which the Board wants in place by September. —Myrna K. Bearse

Three Gardens on View To Benefit Watershed

Three private Princeton gardens will be open to visitors on Saturday, May 26, for the benefit of the Stony Brook-Millstone Watershed Association.

Included in the three is that of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Matthews, which is highlighted by naturalized plantings and winding woodland paths; the formal in-town garden of Mr. and Mrs. J. Richardson Dilworth, which features a walled garden and flowers planned for season-long bloom; and the seven-acre property of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Fillo, designed in the style of an English country garden and featured in the March issue of Garden State Home and Gardens.

Hours are from 11 to 4. For further information call Stony Brook-Millstone Watershed Association, 434-3735, or 737-3603.

Spring Sensations Offers "A Day in the Country"

The Princeton Child Development Institute (PCDI) will present its fifth annual "Spring Sensations," Friday through Sunday.

One highlight of the weekend will be the self-conducted house and garden tour. The theme of this year's tour is "A Day in the Country."

One of the homes on the tour is Laogaland Farm, in Stockton. At the heart of this new home is a 17th-century stone farm built not long after the Revolutionary War. When the current owners purchased the property, they found the old house, which had been occupied solely by a family of raccoons for more than 30 years, virtually in ruins.

Architect Robert S. Bennett of Princeton, designed a 20th-century dwelling incorporating the old house and its historic atmosphere while at the same time allowing for a great deal of light and space.

Another home on the tour is Brickhouse Farm in Hopewell. Brickhouse Farm, named for the classic Colonial red brick construction of its early 19th-century (1810) main residence. It overlooks more than 100 acres of pasture, crops, farm pond, and gardens.

On Friday, at 6 p.m., a preview party for sponsors and patrons will be held. The evening will feature a cried auction.

Events take place at PCDI headquarters, 300 Cold Soil Road, on Saturday from 10 to 6 and on Sunday from 11 to 5.

For more information, call 924-6280.

YWCA Names Winners Of 1990 Twin Awards

The Princeton YWCA Tribute to Women and Industry (TWIN) program has named the winners of the 1990 TWIN Achievement Awards. The awards will be presented at a dinner on Wednesday, May 23, at the Princeton Marriott, Forrestal Village.

TWIN, a national YWCA program adopted by the Princeton YWCA in 1984, annually honors women who have made significant contributions to their employers or professions in executive, entrepreneurial or professional roles.

"This year's 16 honorees reflect a wide range of career achievements," according to Patrick J. Walsh, first vice president, Asset Accumulation Services, Merrill Lynch Consumer Markets, and honorary chairman of the TWIN program this year.

The 1990 honorees are Susan M. Cady, group leader, American Cyanamid Co.; Dr. Carol B. Choye, superintendent, Princeton Regional Schools; Lauren A. Christopher, head, Consumer Electronics, David Sarnoff Research Center; Gail Farkas, vice president, Merrill Lynch Consumer Markets; Louise C. Hall, vice president/controller, The Trust Company of Princeton; Jacqueline A. Keith, director, Geopolitical Industry Issues, Bristol-Myers Squibb Co.; Judith Leviton, director, Princeton Ballet; Marsha Lewis, director, The Lewis School.

Also honored are Sr. Joan Magnetti, headmistress, Stuart Country Day School of the Sacred Heart; Deborah Mather, vice president, Marketing, Kepner-Tregoe, Inc.; Jean McGill, president, TARA Enterprises of Princeton, Inc; Linda Meisel, executive director, Corner House; Pamela Mount, partner, Terhune Orchards; Amy K. Wight, manager, AT&T Bell Laboratories; Joan Wilson, vice president, Continental Insurance; and

Tim's Fish Dish of the Month

Start with fresh fish from your neighborhood fish store, and follow this recipe.

SEAFOOD

Soft Crab Shells

2 cleaned, soft shell crabs
¼ cup all purpose flour
2 tbsp olive oil or vegetable oil
3 tbsp butter
½ tsp chopped garlic
Juice of one lemon
1 tbsp chopped parsley
2 tbsp white wine, optional

Heat 10" sauté pan with 2 tablespoons olive oil. Dredge soft shell crabs in flour. Shake excess flour from crabs. Place in pan – legs first. Sauté 3-5 minutes or until brown. Turn crabs over and sauté 3-5 minutes more on medium high heat. Remove crabs from pan and keep warm. Wipe pan clean. Add 3 tablespoons butter. When butter starts to foam, add garlic, lemon juice, chopped parsley and white wine. Cook 30 seconds and serve over crabs.

Call for information on Tim's June cooking class.

Trenton State College Site for Summer Games

New Jersey Special Olympics will hold the annual Summer Games Friday, Saturday and Sunday, June 1 to 3 at Trenton State College.

More than 1500 Special Olympics athletes from throughout New Jersey have been invited to compete in nine Olympic sports including aquatics, athletics (track and field), bowling, gymnastics, powerlifting, softball, table tennis, tennis and volleyball. Athletes participating in the Games have qualified through competition held at the county or local levels during the spring.

In keeping with Olympic tradition, the 1990 Summer Games will begin with opening ceremonies on Friday, June 1, from 7 to 9:30 p.m. The festivities will include a parade of athletes featuring each of the local training programs, the lighting of the Olympic Flame, fireworks and a concert by Eddie Kendricks and Dennis Edwards, formerly of The Temptations.

Also featured is the final leg of the statewide Law Enforcement Torch Run, which includes more than 1000 law enforcement officials carrying the torch more than 500 miles throughout New Jersey. The Opening Ceremonies will conclude with the athletes reciting the Special Olympics oath, "Let me win, but if I cannot win, let me be brave in the attempt."

Sports competition will take center stage throughout the campus on Saturday and Sunday, June 2 and 3. All events will be conducted under the direction of certified officials with the support of over 2500 volunteers and coaches.

The track will feature the athletics events; aquatics and gymnastics will be held in Packer Hall. Volleyball, powerlifting and table tennis can be found in the Recreation Center. Bowling will take place at Curtis Lanes in Ewing. Softball will be held at Armstrong Field (just off campus) and tennis on the Trenton State College tennis courts. Each sports venue will hold its own awards presentations after each competition.

Special events will also be held throughout the three days. Sports clinics will be offered in a variety of sports to encourage athletes' to try new activities and to further develop their skills. Olympic Town will again be a center of activity with a full schedule of educational, recreational and social opportunities for the athletes.

The Summer Games will draw to a close at 4 p.m. on Sunday, June 3, with the closing ceremonies. Highlights of the Games and achievements of the athletes will be recognized and saluted at the ceremony.

al fireside songfest and storytelling. Saturday evening will bring the "Bird Man" and his feathered friends.

Camp Mason is located north of Route 80 near the Delaware Water Gap in Blairstown. Families are housed in cabins, complete with indoor shower and toilet facilities. Families supply blankets, pillows, linens and play gear. Meals are served family style in the dining hall beginning with Saturday morning breakfast through Sunday lunch.

Scholarships are available. Registration and payment information is available at the Princeton Family YMCA or by calling 497-YMCA.

Whale Watch Outing To Cape May, N.J.

The Holistic Health Association is sponsoring a one day excursion to Cape May on Saturday, June 16.

Captain Ron Robbins' boat, the Holiday, will depart Cape May Harbor at 1:30 p.m. for a four-hour cruise. Participants will have an opportunity to see fin whales and dolphins surfacing and breaching. Rare and endangered species of birds and other marine life will be pointed out by Captain Robbins.

Participants will caravan to Cape May by car on Saturday morning. It is suggested that bag lunches be brought; sodas and snacks are available on board in the Holiday's enclosed lounge.

The fee is $15 a person. For more information, call the HHAPA office at 924-8580.

JOB WELL DONE: The Ladies Auxiliary of Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad, Inc., receives a certificate of appreciation for serving coffee and doughnuts to the firefighters during the fire at 179-183 Nassau Street. The certificate was presented by Borough Council President Marvin Reed, on behalf of Mayor Barbara Sigmund and Borough Council. Accepting the award, from left, are Ann Goeke, Kay Clausen, Mary Van Horn, Cynthia Clausen, Florence Hagadorn, Mary Ellen Nini and Marie Krystaponis.

Garden Plots Available

The Recreation Department has 10-by-15-foot garden plots available at John Witherspoon gardens at the end of John Street behind Tiger Garage and at the Princeton Shopping Center, adjacent to Grover Park.

The sites are available on a first-come, first-served basis. The cost for each plot is $5. Registration is being accepted at the Recreation Office, 380 Witherspoon Street. This program is open to Princeton residents only.

For more information, call 921-9480.

Elderly Care Options Topic for Professionals

The Committee on Aging of the Council of Community Services is sponsoring a conference for professionals on options in long term care, entitled "Long Term Care Doesn't Just Mean Nursing Homes." The conference will be held at the West Windsor Senior Center on Monday from 8:30 to 3.

Dr. Gerald Blandford, formerly director of geriatric programs at Princeton Medical Center and currently medical director of the Nathan Miller Center in White Plains, will be the key note speaker. Workshops will be held on the continuum of care options, including adult day care, geriatric assessment, home health, housing options, nursing home placement and senior centers.

For more information and an application, call Tamara Melzer, assistant director, at 799-0033.

Rider Reading Clinic Accepting Registration

The Rider College Reading/Language Arts Clinic, directed by Dr. Susan M. Glazer, is accepting registration for its 1990 summer program. This program for children ages 6 to 16 runs from July 9 to August 1. Students attend the clinic three days a week, from 8:45 to 11:45 a.m.

For those who have never attended the clinic or who have not attended for a year or more, a cursory screening will be required. Scheduled for Saturday, June 9, from 8:45 to 11:30 a.m., the screening will include a group achievement test and reading comprehension tests.

The purpose of the screening is for clinic placement. Dr. Glazer will speak to parents while children are being assessed and answer questions related to the program.

Rider's program is designed to provide high-achieving readers and writers with a variety of enrichment activities, to provide average readers with activities in reading and writing that help them realize their potential, and to help below-average students increase their basic skills in reading and writing.

For information and applications, call Gail Turner at 896-5313.

Benefit Bike Ride To Aid Diabetes Ass'n

The Central Regional Chapter of the American Diabetes Association will hold its third annual Bike Ride Plus to raise funds for local and national chapters of the ADA (American Diabetes Association), on Saturday.

The ride, scheduled to begin at 9 a.m. will start and finish at the boat house in Mercer County Park. There will be three distances to choose from, including a three mile park loop, and 25 and 50 mile rides through Mercer and Burlington counties for more advanced bikers.

Riders will be eligible for prizes according to how much money they raise for the ADA. The prizes range from bike packs and sports towels for those raising $50 to remote control Panasonic stereos for those raising $5,000. Anyone raising $6,000 will receive either a Takara 12-speed bicycle, an Apple IIC computer or a Sony 8mm Handycam Camcorder.

As in past years, the event will include a corporate challenge which will allow companies to compete against one another for raising funds. The corporate team which raises the most funds will win a trophy. This year's ride will also include, for the first time, a team challenge allowing friends, families or any group to get together and compete. The entry fee for a team, up to ten members, is $100.

Summer Service Program Opportunity for Youth

Area high school and middle school students are invited to join students at Stuart Country Day School of the Sacred Heart in three service programs this summer.

Summer of Service (June 24 to July 27) offers high school students five weekly opportunities to help provide affordable inner-city housing by working at construction tasks in Trenton. Participants live in community at Stuart, travel to work together and reflect during the evenings on the Christian response to issues of social justice.

Summer of Learning (July 2 to July 27) provides high school and middle school students an opportunity to assist in a program which enrolls 70 or more elementary-age children from inner-city schools for mornings of remedial instruction and afternoons of field trips, enrichment and fun. There are five fulltime and two special teachers on staff. Classes are held at Stuart.

STARS (July 2 to July 27) provides high school students an opportunity to assist in a program which offers enrichment study to 5th and 6th graders selected from inner-city schools by the Trenton Gifted and Talented program. There are three fulltime and four special teachers on staff. The classes, held at Stuart, will focus on the performing arts, the environment, and foreign languages.

For more information call Morgan Joynt at 921-2330.

Scholarship Foundation Tees Up for Golf Classic

The Princeton Regional Scholarship Foundation (PRSF) will hold its fifth annual Princeton Golf Classic, at the Springdale Golf Club on June 18. This year's Classic will be played in memory of Eva Collins, a member of the Princeton Regional Board of Education and a leading supporter of the Scholarship Foundation.

The Princeton Gold Classic, sponsored by Coopers & Lybrand and supported by the region's corporate community, is the Foundation's largest fund raising event. The Princeton Regional Scholarship Foundation provides funds for graduating Princeton High School seniors.

Since its inception in 1986, the Classic has helped many Princeton High School students attend college. In 1989 alone, the event raised more than $40,000, which was distributed among 23 students with financial need.

Members of the area business community donate their time and services to organize the event. To sponsor a foursome, to play as a single golfer, or for more information, call Jim Tees, Coopers & Lybrand, 520-6120.

POPPY WEEK: Margaret Pazdan, left, of the American Legion Post 76 Auxiliary, accepts a proclamation from Township Mayor Kate Litvack, setting May 18 to 28 as American Legion Week. During that time, the Auxiliary will be selling red poppies to benefit Legion programs.

Free Tennis Clinics At Mercer County Park

The Mercer County Park Commission will sponsor two free tennis clinics for junior beginners at the County's Outdoor Tennis Center located in Mercer County Park on Saturday, June 2 and Saturday, June 9. Instructions for those 17 and under will be held from 9 to 10:30 a.m. on both dates.

Dave Mennel, tennis pro at the tennis center and several assistants will go over fundamentals, including forehand, backhand, volley and serve. Those interested are welcome to attend one or both clinics. To sign-up call the Outdoor Tennis Center at 586-9850.

Menendez Trial Delayed

The California trial of Lyle and Erik Menendez, charged with the shotgun slaying of their parents last August has been subjected to further delay.

A preliminary hearing for the two brothers and former Princeton residents was postponed this week until June 8 by Municipal Court Judge Charles Rubin. After a closed session meeting on Monday with defense attorneys, prosecutors and homicide detectives, Judge Rubin asked them to return on the 8th for the setting of a new preliminary hearing date. The postponement was necessary, he explained, because a decision from another court, ruling on the admissibility of key evidence, has been delayed until June 1.

That evidence consists of seized tape recordings containing conversations between the Menendez brothers and their psychologist which defense attorneys say are privileged. Prosecutors argue that some are not and would not violate the previleged relationship between therapist and patient.

Judge Rubin also announced that a request by the prosecution for handwriting samples from the Menendez brothers would be heard on June 8.

Meanwhile, Lyle, 22, and Erik, 19, are being held without bond in the Los Angeles County Jail.

Ordinance Is Adopted Protecting Streams

Township Committee unanimously adopted an ordinance protecting waterway corridors from the adverse affects of future development at its meeting Monday night.

The ordinance has been in the works for several years. Following objections by owners of existing homes and single lots alongside streams, the ordinance was revised to eliminate single family homes and existing lots. The ordinance as adopted applies to subdivision applications and commercial development, and its provisions will come into effect through the site plan review process.

In other business, Committee approved a bond ordinance in the amount of $2.2 million for various Township improvements, half of which are for road improvements. Engineer Robert V. Kiser gave an outline of road and intersection improvements that have been completed since 1987 or are under construction as well as some that will be designed this year.

Committee also adopted the ordinance that requires commercial establishments in the Township to submit a recycling plan and to abide by it. An easement agreement with Princeton Shopping Center was approved whereby the Shopping Center owners donate the 15 additional feet that are needed for Little League fields at Grover Park. An agreement between the Shopping Center owners about the access of construction trucks during the renovation of the park was also approved.

By proclamation Mayor Kate Litvack designated May 18-28 as American Legion Poppy Week; May 6-13, Senior Citizens Week; the month of May as Fetal Alcohol Syndrome Awareness month; and May 12-18 National Police Week, with May 15 Township Police Memorial Day.

Sister Joan Magnetti to Leave Stuart Country Day School After 13 Years of Achievement and Growth as Headmistress

Sister Joan Magnetti, RSCJ, headmistress of Stuart Country Day School for the last 13 years, is leaving to become headmistress of the Convent of the Sacred Heart school in Greenwich, Conn., and Princeton is losing one of its most dedicated educators.

There will be a reception in her honor Saturday afternoon, with tributes, champagne and hors d'ocuvres. The occasion will also be used to break ground for an addition to the gymnasium. Those attending have heen invited to contribute to an altar in her name for the performing arts center/chapel which is one of the goals in Stuart's 25th Anniversary Capital Campaign.

Sister Magnetti has been at Stuart since 1977. Shc leaves at a time when the $5.6 million capital campaign hegun in September, 1988 has raised $3.3 million and is within reach of the total. The campaign is not only for hadly needed building improvements but also to raise endowment over the $3 million level and to incrcase financial aid.

During Sister Magnetti's tenure, enrollment has grown from 320 to 450 students, putting pressure on all the available space within the original building. When Stuart was huilt in the early 1960s, it included a convent for 16 religious of the Sacred Heart who now live in small groups in homes in the community. Their former hedrooms have heen turned into classrooms and offices, and the kitchen, dining and living room are used for various purposes, mostly hy faculty and staff.

The next step in the building program is expected to be a reorganization of the science facilities and the addition of a science classroom for the teaching of physics. Stuart has received a gift of $100,000 from the Barhara Piasecka Johnson Foundation for this classroom, which will he named for Madame Curie. Two of Mrs. Johnson's nieces attend Stuart.

One of the most dramatic aspects of Stuart's growth has been the increase in enrollment in the pre-school, which when Sister Magnetti arrived numhered 11 children and now has 65 hoys and girls age 3 to 5 and a waiting list. They occupy three large rooms instead of the original one. Except for the pre-school, Stuart is an all-girl school, spanning kindergarten through grade 12.

Sister Magnetti has a special commitment to the education of young women, and shc makes a distinction hetween running a school that "happens to be all girls" and one in which the choice is deliberate. Reflecting on her years here, she says, "What thrills me is that Stuart is really here to stay, and that it occupies a unique niche in women's education."

She speaks of the values that Stuart seeks to impart — values such as sense of community and concern and respect for others. "More and more parents tell us they want their children to have a clear set of values, and in this era of over-consumerism and self-centeredness the school has a definite role to play in values formation," she remarks.

Stuart is one of an international network of Sacred Heart schools, including 18 other Sacred Heart schools in the United States. Half the students are Roman Catholic, the other half comes from a variety of traditions — Buddhism, Muslim, Protestant and even Jewish. Sister Magnetti believes that such a diverse student population enriches the lives of all and that a faith-centered, value-oriented education gives Stuart its distinctive spirit.

"We help children pray," she says. "We take them on retreats, encourage times of solitude, contemplation and reflection — things their parents prohably have to fight to gain in their own lives." The nature trail that winds through the woods in back of the school is as much a part of this endcavor as is the chapel, she says.

Sister Magnetti says she is happy that the school has been ahlc to secure the funds to commit nearly 10 percent of its operating budget to financial aid. This enables a large group of middle income children to attend the school as well as lower income children who would never have the opportunity to go to a school like Stuart.

"More and more parents tell us they want their children to have a clear set of values, and in this era of over-consumerism and self-centeredness the school has a definite role to play in values formation."

One of her early goals was paying off a debt of $2.5 million in the early 1980s, which paved the way for Stuart to begin building the endowment and allowed more flexibility in designing the program. Doubling the size of the lower school is also one of the achievements of her tenure.

Social Service Projects

Outreach is particularly important to Sister Magnetti. During the school year there are opportunities for students to work in various social service projects in Princeton and Trenton, and in the summer there are four programs tbat bring Trenton youngsters to the Stuart campus for tutoring and enrichment activities. Thc program functions as a feeder for recruitment of inner city children and an opportunity for faculty to work in new and challenging ways, she says.

Faculty enrichment has also been a primary focus. "I get very angry at the salary levels for teachers at both public and private schools," Sister Magnetti says. Realizing that MOVING ON: A farewell reception is planned for Sister Joan Magnetti RSCJ who is leaving Stuart Country Day School of the Sacred Heart in June after 13 years in the post.

the school would not be able to raise salaries to the desired levels immediately, she has sought funding to pay matriculation or partial tuition costs for special study. Stuart teachers have gone to places like Crete, Latin America, Nice and Martha's Vineyard to take summer courses in their particular fields.

"When I see the faculty come back in the fall full of incredible enthusiasm because of a particular program, that really warms my heart as an educator," she says. The Stuart staff numbers 100, including 65 full-time equivalent faculty.

One change over the last 13 years has been the addition of more part-time specialists in such areas as drama, psychology and health education as student life has taken on more importance. Sister Magnetti speaks of the stereotype that an all-girls school has to overcome and points out that one of the principals of Sacred Heart education is to develop well-rounded young women. Thus Stuart upper school girls do a variety of things with boys from other schools, ranging from white water rafting to attending a New York Philharmonic Orchestra concert at Carnegie Hall.

"We encourage intelligent, age-appropriate activities of all kinds, not just dances. It's not a valid experience just to throw girls into a co-ed environment," she remarks, adding, "Our parents have been great about this."

Sister Magnetti speaks with great delight of the students themselves. "They never cease to amaze me. They are such self-determinant young women." Developing self-confidence and leadership ability as preparation for productive lives in a changing world is paramount at Stuart, she notes.

Asked in what ways she feels she has changed or grown over the 13 years, Sister Magnetti says Stuart has helped her form her philosophy of education. She was only 33 when she came, and she feels the school has allowed her to experiment. "I am a creative educator now. I've been able to experiment, whether it was doubling the size of the lower school by moving walls around, or by going after gifts that would retire the debt.

"People have trusted me, and I leave here with a greater sense of self-confidence than when I came." She says that Princeton is not a "running downhill" experience for a school head. "Princeton is a very competitive environment, and parents have very high ideals and expectations. I've learned how to deal with that.

"I've been nurtured by a lot of wonderful people who were there to help me, to listen and to tell me when I am doing something wrong."

Sister Magnetti says she will bring to the Convent of the Sacred Heart in Greenwich her commitment to the education of young women and also her very strong commitment to outreach, particularly the linkage of city and suburb. The Greenwich school has a small population of weekly boarders who come from New York City and Westchester, and it also has a working farm where students from other Sacred Heart schools come for two or three weeks in the summer to learn how to live in community.

Sister Magnetti will be going back to a school where she spent seven years in a variety of positions before and after taking her vows. Born in Teaneck, she attended public schools and then went to a private Catholic high school, Academy of the Holy Angels in Fort Lee. Graduating in 1961, she went to Manhattanville College, a Sacred Heart college in Purchase, N.Y.

Decision to Become o Nun

It was there that she started to think seriously about entering the order. "I was touched by the religious who taught me. the values they had there, the real love for each other and for the children." She says her parents were religious to the extent of attending church regularly, but they were not particularly happy about her decision to become a nun.

"It was a radical decision at that time, before the changes that Vatican II brought in the late '60s. When I entered the novitiate in Albany in 1965, right out of college, they knew I would be cloistered for two years."

During her noviceship, she taught social studies and was assistant to the head of the upper school at Kenwood Academy of the Sacred Heart in Albany for three years. In 1968 she became academic dean and head of the religious education department at Convent of the Sacred Heart in Greenwich. In 1973 she went to Ohio to be director of religious education at Glen Oak School and Gilmour Academy in Gates Mills.

From August, 1974 to January, 1975 she was in Assisi, Italy — with 30 nuns from 13 different countries — preparing for her final vows, which she made in March, 1975. "Being in an international order is so enriching. Being in dialogue with people from all over pulls us out of what could be a parochial approach," Sister Magnetti remarks.

Returning to the U.S. she served as a consultant for curriculum design and religion for Sacred Heart schools for the remainder of that academic year and returned again to Sacred Heart, Greenwich, as curriculum coordinator and teacher of social studies and psychology. She came to Princeton in 1977.

Sister Magnetti has been active in the National Association of Independent Schools and served as area director for the NAIS for four years. She was the first woman elected president of the New Jersey Association of Independent Schools. In 1986 she was elected a member of The Headmasters Association, one of the few women in this group which is traditionally limited to 100 members from throughout the country.

"When I hear a third grader pray for hostages, not about what she wants for her birthday, I think we're on the right track toward developing world citizens."

"Womon of Achievement"

In Princeton she has been a trustee of Trinity Counseling Service, and she is on the board of a half dozen schools around the country. This spring she was awarded a Business and Professional Women State award as a "Woman of Achievement" and a Tribute to Women in Industry (TWIN) award from the Princeton YWCA. She has been an active supporter of the Martin House community building program in Trenton and a school board director for the Diocese of Trenton.

Sister Magnetti says she is grateful that God drew her to the Sacred Heart order. "What I found in the Society of Sacred Heart was a group of women who were individuals, who kept their individual person and were not all cut from the same mold. They had a real love of prayer and contemplation, and were also very committed to a style of education that is expensive and says that all ideas are worthy of consideration.

"They represent the best of Catholicism," she continues. "They believe in being really rigorous in your intellectual life, and they are very loving to each other and affectionate to students. I never heard a religious say an unkind word to another. They are very patient because of their great love of God, and they carry that out in their approach to other people.

"I'm glad God drew me in that direction, but I don't believe the religious life is any better than any other way of life. We have faculty who don't have RSCJ after their names but who have the same commitment, the same caring. It's catchable."

Importance of Education

The rewards and importance of education is a theme that comes up again and again in any conversation with Sister Magnetti. "Education is so formative," she says. "Such a power. There is nothing that a good education can't provide you with. To know yourself, to know your world.

"When I hear a third grader pray for the hostages, not about what she wants for her birthday, I think we're on the track toward developing world citizens. That is so rewarding."

Sister Sandra Theunick RSCJ will be the next headmistress of Stuart Country Day School of the Sacred Heart. She is coming to Princeton from Seattle, Wash., and will begin July 1. The school will continue to educate young women according to the five goals and values shared by all Sacred Heart schools: faith that is relevant in a secularized world; deep respect for intellectual values; social awareness that impels to action; building of community as a Christian value; and personal growth in an atmosphere of wise freedom.

But Sister Magnetti will be remembered for the important role she played at a critical time in Stuart's development.

Ms. Chandler will discuss peace and disarmament issues as they relate to her positions and campaign from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. The Business meeting of the committee will commence at 8:30.

Members of the puhlic are invited. For further information, contact the Coalition at 40 Witherspoon Street, telephone 924-5022.

On Monday, the Washington Crossing Audubon Society will host Joseph Schmeltz, Mercer County naturalist and supervisor of the County Wildlife Rehabilitation Center. The program will introduce wildlife rehabilitation as a growing new science, and will profile the facility at the Mercer County Correction Center north of Titusville.

Slides will feature everything from the tube-feeding of snapping turtles to the construction of various cages. There will be ample opportunity for the audience to ask questions regarding problems with wildlife.

The program, which is Auduhon's last until September, will begin at 8 p.m. in Stainton Hall at the Pennington School, Delaware Avenue, Pennington. Refreshments will be available at 7:30. The public is welcome and there is no charge.

The Princeton-based Harrison Athletic Club, active in touch/flag football, basketball, and softball during the 1960's and 1970's, will hold a 30th reunion on Saturday, June 30.

Former members, or those who know the whereabouts of former members, should contact Robert O. Smyth, president of the club and chairman of the reunion committee, at 292-5756 (days) or 771-6191 (evenings and weekends).

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad will meet Tuesday, May 29, at 8 p.m. at the squad house, North Harrison Street.

President Marie Kystaponis will preside.

The American Red Cross, Princeton Area Chapter will hold its 76th annual meeting on Wednesday, June 6 at 6 p.m. at the Merrill Lynch Conference and Training Center. The business meeting, which will include the election of officers and directors to the chapter's board as well as an award ceremony honoring individual and corporate achievements, will be followed by a reception featuring the Nassoons.

Members of the Princeton Area chapter and those who have supported the American Red Cross through its partner, the United Way-Princeton Arca Communities, arc invited to attend.

For reservations and information, call the Princeton Area chapter at 924-2404.

IT'S NEW To Us

Travel Arrangements From Travelhost Agency

"We treat each client as the client, not just one of the clients. We go that extra mile for people, and we want to be known for that old-fashinned service, the kind of service that we all truly deserve but that you hardly ever see today. That's our philosophy."

In fact, adds Carol Argenti, president of Travelhost Agency, the new travel agency in the Ellsworth Center at 33 Princeton-Hightstown Road in Princeton Junction, it was a vacation trip that wasn't quite up to standard that prompted her tn go into the travel agency husiness. "I had always wanted to start my own bnsiness," she explains, "hut it was a question of what to get involved in. My hushand and I have always loved to travel, and after one of our vacations that didn't go quite right, I said I thought I should get into the business because I know the kind of service I like and what people should expect."

With her husband Gene Argenti's support, she opened Travelhost Travel Agency, which had its Grand Opening this past Saturday. One of 40 franchises across the country, Travelhost is an individually owned agency.

Mrs. Argenti, who had handled travel arrangements before in the corporate field, brngs enthusiasm and energy to her new venture. She is also very pleased to have Clara Baugh, who relocated from Princeton, Kentucky, and who has 26 years experience in all aspects of the business, as Travelhost's manager. "Clara has also done extensive traveling all over — and she can advise customers from her personal experience. My husband and I have traveled for many years, too, and can give people special guidance."

Still Travelers

"In fact," she ndds, "we will still be traveling and trying out places. I know I'll never get tired of the traveling. Also, it benefits the customers and benefits us by having first-hand knowledge."

When helping someone plan a trip, she continues, the first thing to find out is the person's likes and dislikes, his or her interests. "Are they beach people, sports people? Do they like hot or cold weather? Cities or country? And, most important, what kind of budget are they on? When we know this, we can suggest different types of places, hotels, etc. You take into consideration how old the hotel is, how far from the airport, etc.

"People like so many different kinds of things," she adds, "and there are special vacations for everyone Sailing, hiking, senba diving, tennis, golf — all of these are vacation possibilities.

"Also, special family vacations can be fun. There are many cruises featuring events for kids. We took a family vacation with my two sons, Christopher and Matthew, on the Premier Cruise Line (the official cruise line of Walt Disney World) and it was great. You cruise from Florida to Nassau in the Bahamas and an nuter island It also includes trips to the theme parks — Magic Kingdom Park, Epcot and a tour of Cape Canaveral."

TIPS FOR TRAVEL: "We are a full-service agency," says Carol Argenti, president of Travelhost Travel Agency, located in the Ellsworth Center in Princeton Junction. "We want to give people everything they need for that special trip. From plane and train tickets to rental cars and hotel and cruise arrangements — whether it's business or vacation — we can do it all!"

Mrs. Argenti notes that travel is popular with everyone these days. Families, singles and all ages — they're all on the go! Favorite destinations include the Caribbean and Mexico, as well as many places in the United States. "Alsn, she adds, "there's a lot of interest in the Eastern European countries now — especially with the changes taking place in that part of the world Russia, Yugoslavia, Hungary and East Germany are popular, and there are special tours to these countries."

Travel Area Videos

Travelhost offers a number of special features to help people plan trips. For example, the agency's travel entertainment center provides videos of possible vacation areas. Customers can sit down and take a look at highlights of Australia, Aruba, Hawaii, Paris, Ireland, and Antarctica, among others.

Mrs. Argenti is looking forward to helping people with their summer and fall vacations, and she emphasizes that Travelhost can take care of every type of trip, whether individual, group tour, cruise, etc. She adds that all the arrangements for business trips can he handled, as well "We are not limited to any one area. All our staff is able to take care of both corporate and leisure accounts. We also offer ticket delivery service for corporate accounts That way we'll get to know people and establish a rapport."

Saving time, money and possihle headaches are good reasons for working with a travel agent, she adds. "People don't always realize it, but they can actually save by going to a travel agent. With our expertise, we can get people the best deal

"For example, we have some excellent packages available now, especially to Mexico and the Caribbean. In addition, we are recommending a terrific Caribbean cruise aboard Norwegian Cruise Line's The Skyward. Sailing September 15, it is seven nights for $1,292 per person.

Mrs. Argenti also wants travelers to remember that at Travelhost, they can make just about all their arrangements under one roof. "As well as making all the reservations, we also take passport pictures, provide visa and passport applications, free flight insurance and we have a FAX and 800 number. We will do our very best for people, and I think the variety and quality of our services set us apart. Remember, our goal is to make every client's travel dream a reality!"

Travelhost is open Monday through Friday 9 to 8 and Saturday 10 to 4. Mrs. Argenti notes that "We are open later because with our close proximity to the train station we didn't want to miss the commuter traffic."

Sports Collectibles Featured at New Shop

Sports fans of all ages will be captivated by the treasure trove of items at Princeton Sports Corner, the new shop at 80 Nassau Street (upstairs from Hinkson's Stationery). Just open two weeks, the store is already drawing a coterie of customers, who are intrigued by the wide range of merchandise, all focused on sports.

"There is no other place in Princeton like this," notes owner Susan Pollack. "We have baseball, football, basketball and hockey cards and memorabilia, as well as pennants, posters, miscellany and novelty items, baseball hats, T-shirts, tank tops, professional and college team sweatshirts and pants, jerseys and jackets."

Mrs. Pollack's family was instrumental in her opening the new business, she reports. "I took the kids to baseball and basketball games, and my husband and the kids collected. The boys kept saying 'Why not have a baseball card shop'? It appealed to me to have my own business, and it was something I could do with the family. We really are a family business. My two sons help out after school, and my husband comes in on weekends."

Mrs. Pollack is especially pleased that the shop is drawing so many young people. "This is really a fun business to be in," she says. "I love the fact that lots of kids are around. They all come in after school, and it's a great place for them to hang out. We're also very community minded. The store sponsors a Little League team.

A Ploce to Browse

"We are also getting older customers, as well," she continues. "Really, all ages like the store. The kids enjoy the packs of cards, and adults come in for cards of players from the past and the clothes. People just love to browse. They come in and they don't want to leave."

Collecting is an excellent hobby for children to take up, she adds, noting that, in particular, the baseball cards can be a first-rate investment. "It has been said that one of the 10 best things to invest in for the '90s is baseball cards. In fact, one customer said 'I think it's the best thing, and it's fun too!"

SPORTS SPECIALTIES: "This is my first adventure into retail. My kids and my husband are sports freaks, and I guess it rubbed off on me!" Susan Pollack and her sons, Landon and Shane, are already welcoming many customers to their new shop, Princeton Sports Corner, at 80 Nassau Street (just upstairs from Hinkson's Stationery). Baseball cards, hats, memorabilia, T-shirts, tank tops, sweat shirts and team jerseys and jackets are all available.

Collectors will indeed find a tremendous variety of cards. The shop stocks more than one million, and Mrs. Pollack can also fill special orders. Everything from the superstars of today to the legends of the past is available, as well as players in the minor leagues. There are also miscellaneous cards, such as Batman, Ninja, Garbage Pail and wrestling. Cards are offered individually or in packs, and one of the most popular items in the shop is the baseball and football card vending machine which dispenses three or four assorted cards for 50 cents.

Baseball hats are also very big sellers, notes Mrs. Pollack, and a large selection including pro and college team logos, is on hand from $5 to $19.

Mets, Yankees and Phillies fans, as well as devotees of college and pro teams in a variety of sports, can find just the right cap, T-shirt, jersey or jacket — even boxer shorts, and the Starter and Champion line of clothing is especially popular. There is even a selection of togs for toddlers, with the appropriate sports shirts and outfits for the tiny tots.

Mrs. Pollack reports that items for serious collectors are also available. There are framed cards and pictures signed by superstars of the past, a bat autographed by Brooklyn Dodger Duke Snider and signed baseballs, etc. Such items are authenticated and notarized, she explains. She adds that the store plans to hold special events from time to time, including autograph sessions with popular professional stars of various sports.

Novelty Items

Novelty products, such as baseball and football helmet telephones are offered, as is a large range of sports miscellany, including mini hats, magnets, key rings, bubble gum, pencils and erasers, mugs, tumblers, garbage cans, wrist bands and baseball banks. A line of greeting cards with pictures of various athletes is also on display, and there are also baseball card supplies, such as cases, sheets and boxes.

"The cards, hats and posters are especially popular," says Mrs. Pollack, noting that "it's unusual for one shop to carry such a variety of items — the cards, memorabilia and clothing. Not all stores do this."

Prices cover a wide range at Princeton Sports Corner. A single card of a player of today can start at 5 cents. Packs of eight to 12 cards are 25 cents and up. An authentic card of a superstar of the past could go as high as $500. Posters are $4, tank tops and T-shirts $10 and up, mugs $5 and $6 and tumblers start at $2.50.

Gift certificates are also available.

"We hope people will come and find us," says Mrs. Pollack. "We know they'll have fun once they come in. We have something for everyone's taste. This is really a very good business to be in, and there's a lot of interest in it."

Princeton Sports Corner is open Monday through Friday 10 to 6, Saturday 10 to 5 and Sunday 11 to 3.

"Woman in Mind" Has a Fun Time With a Woman Going Out of Hers

Woman in Mind by Alan Ayckbourn, final play of McCarter's 1989-90 season and of Nagle Jackson's 11-year term as Artistic Director, is a sad-funny cartoon of a play about a woman who at intervals escapes from her real and depressive family into an unreal and manic family. She is going out of her mind.

Susan is appealing because of the way Kimberly King plays her and because of her plight: still sexually alive, she is married to an English parson who spends his time and his creative energy writing a history of his three-centuries-old parish, and to whom sex with his wife is also history.

He is a stick, played with broad, amusing stickliness by Robert Lanchester.

Their only child, a son (Mark David Murphy), has recently quit a religious cult that forbade his speaking to his parents, and has married a nurse they've never met — and won't: He has only come home to sell his furniture and deprive his mother of her only physical evidence he ever existed. He will accompany his wife to Thailand and seek work as a handyman.

This family circle is rounded out by the parson's sister (Jill Tanner), a permanent house guest whose atrocious cooking is a joke-mine, as is her determination to communicate with her late husband.

Into a Dream World

A stepped-on garden rake knocks Susan out of this mess and into a tennis-anyone? dream world peopled by the bouncy 20-ish daughter she never had (Katherine Heasley) and two bouncy blonde men, a husband (William Richert) and a brother (Randy Lilly).

This basic situation lends itself to director Nagle Jackson's brand of theatricality and he makes the most of it. Unfortunately neither family is very interesting.

At one point in the second half, Woman in Mind threatens to stop the horseplay and deal sensitively and realistically with poor Susan's problem, but the prolific author (Ayckbourn 39, Shakespeare 36) quickly gets back on the farce-and-fantasy track with a wedding of the dream daughter and perhaps the most convincing garden-drenching rainstorm ever seen on McCarter's stage, reminding us all once more of Mr. Jackson's playful ingenuity.

'Woman in Mind'

Perhaps the most interesting character is a doctor (Mark Capri), who, though cut of cardboard not much thicker than that of the other characters, seems genuinely to love Susan. But instead of helping her he is swept, presumably by his love, over into her dream world! — a poetic notion, and since the author is giving his imagination not only free rein but a sharp spur, why not?

When Susan is made love to by her dream husband, one could see Dr. Ruth nodding approval.

Many Laugh-Lines

Mr. Ayckbourn is a funny, sometimes witty writer about English family life and there are many laugh-lines in the play. It is timely, not to say trendy, in positing a severely put-upon woman and a wimp of a husband.

Because the characters exhibit so little intelligence and the problem dealt with is so serious, one is reminded, again, of The Boys Next Door, a high point of the Jackson years, which drew comedy from the behavior of its mentally handicapped young men — but from a close and respectful observation of them.

The Boys had no air of cleverness or exploitation-for-laughs about it, which Woman does have. Susan's sad and not uncommon plight seems to serve as a percussion cap to set off the author's and the director's rich comic imaginations.

These are deep matters. Serious theatergoers will want to check out Woman for themselves. They will be rewarded, at the very least, by some lively performances, a striking garden setting by Daniel Boylen, bright costumes by Elizabeth Covey, and creative lighting by F. Mitchell Dana.

Nagle Jackson came on stage for an opening night curtain call that became a standing ovation from an audience probably representative of the thousands in the Princeton community whose lives have been brightened and enriched by an amazingly varied 11 years worth of dramatic offerings.

News of the THEATRES

Five Shows Planned By Hopewell Theater

The Off-Broadstreet Theatre in Hopewell has announced the line-up of shows for the season starting June 1. Celebrating its sixth year, Off-Broadstreet is a dessert theater, offering patrons dessert and coffee in a candlelight setting an hour before curtain.

The season will begin with Move Over Mrs. Markham, an English bedroom farce by Ray Cooney and John Chapman. The show will open June 1 and run weekends through July 7. Lucky Stiff, which won the 1988 Richard Rodgers Award for best Off-Broadway musical, will be the second in the series.

Vikings, a drama by Stephen Metcalfe, author of Strange Snow, will open August 31 and run for six weekends. Neil Simon's Broadway Bound will grace the stage October and November. The final show will be a musical still to be announced pending royalty negotiations.

Season subscriptions may be purchased through the run of Move Over Mrs. Markham, which closes July 7. Subscribers receive ticket discounts and priority seating. For information or to receive a brochure of the new season, call the theatre at 466-2766. Off-Broadstreet is located at 5 South Greenwood Avenue, Hopewell.

Open Auditions Set For 5-character Comedy

The Franklin Villagers Barn Theatre will hold open auditions for Joe Orton's comedy/farce Loot on Monday and Tuesday from 7:30 to 10:30 each night. Auditions are by appointment only and may be scheduled by calling the theatre at (201) 873-2710. Performances of Loot will begin Friday, July 13 and continue through July 29 on Wednesdays, Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays at 8:30 and Sundays at 7:30.

Loot is a quick-paced, intricate farce with serious overtones concerning the power of government and corruption and how these affect a small group of people. Director Doug Eaton emphasizes the diverse and intriguing characters that make up the cast of five men and one woman.

The characters include: McLeavy — a middle class, conservative father, age 45 to 60; Hal — his son, a confused youth, age 20 to 30; Fay — a forward and opportunistic woman who is not afraid to use her looks to her advantage, age 25 to 40; Dennis — a mortician and a sophisticated charmer, age 24 to 30; Truscott — a conservative almost stereotypical detective with a twisted evil streak, age 30 to 50; and Meadows — his fledgling, bland assistant, age 20 to 30.

Those wishing to audition will be asked to do a reading from the script. A copy will be available at the Franklin Township Library adjacent to the theater. Rehearsals will begin the week of May 27 and will be held three to four times a week primarily on weekday nights and weekend days through the July 13 opening.

The Franklin Villagers Barn Theatre is located in the Franklin Township Municipal Complex at 475 DeMott Lane (between Easton Avenue and Amwell Road) in the Somerset section of Franklin Township.

McCarter Musical Opens Off-Broadway

Smoke on the Mountain, is the latest production to move to New York following a world premiere at McCarter Theatre. The production opened last Sunday at the Lamb's Theater, 130 West 44th Street.

Smoke on the Mountain was written by Connie Ray and conceived and directed by Alan Bailey. The production was first presented at McCarter as a summer production in 1988 and opened on the main stage in the fall of 1989.

Except for Rhonda Coullett, who played the mother of a Depression gospel singing family, the entire 1989 cast is in the New York City production. Ms. Ray plays the non-singing sister, Kevin Chamberlin is the hapless but sincere preacher, Reathel Bean is the father, Dan Manning the prodigal uncle, Linda Kerns the mother and Robert Olsen and Jane Potter are the twins.

Smoke on the Mountain tells of the Sanders, a Depression-era family who travel through the South bearing witness to their religion through hymns and hilarity while accompanying themselves on instruments ranging from the banjo and fiddle to the washboard and harmonica.

Tickets are $22 and may be reserved by calling the Lamb's Theater box office at (212) 997-1780.

Registration Under Way For Theater Classes

Creative Theatre offers a four week summer class session in creative dramatics and theater which runs from July 2 to 27.

Theatre Workshop, for teens 12 to 15, provides students with the opportunity to develop their own original version of a classic full-length tale to be decided on by the class. Students will participate in improvisational acting, playwriting, traditional and non-traditional set, prop, and costume construction as they design and create their own play. At the conclusion of the session (July 27) the students will perform their play for family and friends. The class meets twice a week, on Mondays and Fridays, from 10 to 2:30 and is taught by D. Kenneth Harper.

The Drama Workshop for students ages 7 to 11, is offered on Tuesday, Wednesday, and

COMING TO PRINCETON: Mark Goodman, center front, is the songwriter, lead vocalist and rhythm guitarist for the rock and roll group, My Dog Homer, he founded. Other members, from left, are Jock Grundy, bass and rhythm guitar, Phil Powers, saxophone, backing vocals, Larry Nadon, drums and coffee cans, and Gary Logan, lead guitar. The group will give a concert at the Arts Council on Saturday, June 2.

MUSIC

Rock Band Concert At the Arts Council

My Dog Homer, a rock band formed by songwriter Mark Goodman, will perform at the Loft Theater at the Arts Council on Saturday, June 2, at 8:30.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. George J.W. Goodman of Fairway Drive, Mark Goodman grew up in Princeton. He attended Johnson Park School and Princeton Day School and graduated from The Lawrenceville School in 1981. He received a B.A. in psychology from Harvard in 1986 and is living in New York City, working with the marketing and planning department of FCB/Leber Katz Partners, an advertising agency.

Mark never played a musical instrument in his Princeton years and instead put his energies into playing tennis. He formed My Dog Homer last October, and the group has been playing in clubs in New York City since December. It has a growing repertoire of 35 original tunes, all of them written by Mark, who says the group has been compared to R.E.M.

Admission is $5 at the door.

Princeton Shopping Center Sponsors Free Concerts

The Princeton Shopping Center will sponsor a series of free concerts Thursday evenings, May 24 through June 28, from 6 to 8, in the courtyard. The series is entitled "Thursday Night Live."

Residents are encouraged to bring chairs and blankets and to order takeout meals from Bon Appetit, Clancy's Place, Great Tastes, Pizza star and Sakura House. Great Tastes has outdoor dining available and suggests you make reservations. Pizza Star has outdoor tables as well.

The series begins May 24, with big band sounds from the 30's to the present with the Moonlighters under the direction of Al McDonald.

On May 31, the Joe Scanella Dixieland Jazz Band will play authentic Dixieland and music of the 20's featuring the voice of Vera Downing. The Rick Fiori Swing Jazz Quintet will play hot jazz of the 40's and 50's on June 7.

On June 14, the Acoustic Jazz Group, Marc McDonald Quintet will perform jazz standards from the 50's and the 60's as well as originals. The Paul Plumeri Blues Band, which has opened for BB king on several occasions, will perform on June 21.

The series will conclude June 28 with hebop, standards and Broadway tunes by the Saxophone Jazz Ensemble, under the direction of Bill Maisto.

For more information call 921-6234.

Final Concert Friday In Folk Music Series

The Princeton Folk Music Society will present Tony Bird in the final concert of the 1989-90 season. The concert will be held Friday at 8:15 at Christ Congregation

Mr. Bird's songs are about the land and peoples of Africa. The Village Voice has said that "The power of his lyrics lies in the way he combines English poetics, American idiom, and the simple vividness that a place of Africa's heat, color and scale seem to evoke."

"A Fanfare for Friends" Will Benefit Boychoir

New Jersey's First Lady Lucinda Florio has been named honorary chair of "A Fanfare for Friends," the third annual benefit concert for The American Boychoir School which will be held Friday, June 1 at 8 p.m. in Richardson Auditorium.

The concert will feature performances by the American Boychoir, the Atlantic Brass Quintet, and the Bambini di Praga, the Prague Czechoslovakia, Children's Choir. The program will be highlighted by the Princeton premieres of three choral works commissioned by the American Boychoir through the National Endowment for the Arts. One work, which will be receiving its world premiere, is Glosses by Princeton composer Milton Babbitt.

Proceeds from the concert will benefit the American Boychoir School's New Jersey scholarship program. Tickets are $15, $25 and $50. They are available at the Princeton University Store, the American Boychoir School and Hal's Stereo in Lawrenceville. Patron seating, which includes a pre-concert dinner at the Nassau Club and a post-concert reception, is also available.

For more information call 924-5858.

Winners Are Announced Of Composition Contest

Six Princeton students have been selected winners of the Voices annual music composition contest for children under the age of 12. The contest is sponsored by Voices to promote interest in singing and composition among children.

Sophie Ban, age 6, submitted the composition Chicken Little. Brian Feinstein, age 7, wrote Central Park. Megan Maher, 12, was a winner with Prelude and Katherine Papastephanou also age 12, won the judges approval with Dance in Math Class. Compositions by Kimberly Pehrson and Michael Krauthamer, were also selected.

Several of these compositions will be performed and all the composers will be presented with a gift certificate for a pint of ice cream from Jann's Sweet Shoppe in Pennington at the Voices annual children's program which is part of the Pennington Day festivities on Saturday.

Evening Concert Set By A Cappella Group

Mostly a Cappella, a choral ensemble based in Hopewell, will hold a spring evening of song, Sunday at 7:30 at the Hopewell Presbyterian Church, Routes 518 and 654 in Hopewell. Senior Center Week Was a Huge Success

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The Princeton Senior Resource Center would like to acknowledge and thank all our Princeton Area friends and volunteers who helped us celebrate May as Older Americans Month and Senior Center Week, May 6 through May 13. Our kickoff event, the Pasathon, was a huge success because of the 70 walkers who participated. Thanks to the generosity of our 2 sponsors, PSE&G and the Trust Company of Princeton, we were able to provide T-shirts and a jazz band. Memorable eats were supplied to all the participants at the end of the walk by Clancy's Place and Great Tastes. We also want to thank our other corporate sponsors, Bristol-Myers Squibb and Church and Dwight Company, Inc. for their continued support of the Pasathon. We are especially grateful to Chris Hanington, Marketing Director at Princeton Shopping Center for her assistance and hospitality.

The events of Senior Center Week were highlighted by an outstanding advertisement which was designed by The Packet. We are most appreciative of the recognition. The Princeton Library allowed us to decorate its window in celebration of older Americans and we hope that many of you will drop by there to admire our workmanship. Both the Borough and the Township issued proclamations emphasizing the importance of senior centers as community focal points for delivery of services and pledged their continuing support.

The entire week has been one of awareness and celebration. On behalf of our senior population, we thank you.

Teen/Senior Program Benefitted From Concert

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The Intergenerational Program at Princeton High School benefitted substantially from a very successful concert and party held on Sunday April 29. The board of the Youth Employment Service gives warm thanks to the Chamber Symphony of Princeton for donating to us 50 tickets to its glorious concert at Richardson Auditorium and thanks also to our fellow Y/E/S board member, Leon Christen, for contributing delicious food and wine to the post-concert party at Mountain Lakes House. Those who generously bought tickets to the event have helped keep the valuable Intergenerational Program flourishing.

Middle School Band Worthy of Praise

To the Editor of Town Topics:

What a pleasure last night to enjoy the performance of the three John Witherspoon Middle School bands, under the direction of Mr. Rick Lombardo. Their ensemble playing was terrific, and the effort to feature each section commendable.

The band program at Princeton High School receives well-deserved praise. We don't know how John Witherspoon stole Mr. Lombardo away from them to teach our middle-schoolers, but we're sure glad he's here!

Gypsy Moth Spraying Is Counterproductive

To the Editor of Town Topics:

On Friday, May 11, Princeton Township was bombarded by a low flying crop duster, spraying for gypsy moths. I saw no warning of this in either the local newspapers or my mailbox. However, the lack of warning is not the issue; the issue is whether or not we should allow this random spraying at all.

Just five days before, in the May 6 issue of the New York Times New Jersey section, there was an excellent article by Pete Dunne concerning the gypsy moth phenomenon and our senseless use of pesticides to control it. In it he describes the history of the gypsy moth (it was introduced to this country for commercial reasons), and our failed efforts to control it (DDT and other hazardous chemicals).

He goes on to explain that gypsy moths do not do that much damage and are selective in their feeding. In the long run only three to eight percent of the defoliated trees actually die, which can be beneficial to forests as a whole. And although the insect is a nuisance it is not a health hazard.

Dunne says the pesticides used to destroy this so-called pest, also kill other caterpillars which would become beautiful and beneficial species of butterflies and moths. And, due to this decrease in insect population we are eliminating a major food source for our struggling bird populations.

My question is; is this really where you want your tax money to go? Individuals may still wish to control the insect on their property by using ecologically sound methods on specific trees and shrubs; however, this random spraying is ludicrous, dangerous and costly to people as well as our natural neighbors. Remember, every day is Earth Day.

ART

Student Work on View At Rocky Hill Library

The Mary Jacobs Library in Rocky Hill will have two exhibits of the work of local young artists and writers during the month of May. "Young Authors" will feature the work of second grade students at the Burnt Hill Road Schools, who have created books of their own writings.

The "Mini-Metropolitan" is an annual exhibit of paintings by sixth grade students at the Orchard Road School. Both exhibits will be on view through May 31.

These exhibits are free and open to the public. For further information, call the library at 924-7073.

GOING TO THE USSR: Five of the artists representing the Trenton Artist Workshop Association, who will visit the Soviet Union in August are, from left, Robert Muller of Roosevelt, Judith Brodsky of Princeton, Lou Draper of Trenton, Joy Barth of Skillman, and James Colavita of Princeton.

Exhibits

Gilbert Lewis's portraits of young men will be featured in an exhibition at the Chauncey Gallery of Educational Testing Service from May 23 through June 27.

Though trained in traditional oil painting techniques, Mr. Lewis presently works in gouache on paper on gessoed panel. The New Art Examiner wrote, "Gilbert Lewis's work breathes new life into the tired tradition of figurative art in which women are the official object of desire, and he brings fresh and expansive energy to the work."

His subjects are slight young men with elongated faces and clear, revealing eyes. Each seems caught in that awkward period between adolescence and manhood. A series of graphite on gouache still lifes will also be exhibited.

Gallery hours are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., Monday through Saturday.

"GUATEMALAN EMBROIDERY ON BLACK," a pressed flower collage by Sally Stang, can be seen in a show of her work and the work of Lee Stang Harr and Ric Stang at the Lewis School on June 2 and 3.

Lee Stang Harr, Ric Stang, and Sally Stang, a family of artists, will show their most recent work on Saturday and Sunday, June 2 and 3, at the Lewis School, 53 Bayard Lane, from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. Ric Stang will demonstrate wood turning at 1 and 4.

Featured in the show will be Lee Stang Harr's Victorian Children Series II, plus still life and florals. Mr. Stang's work in wood has been exhibited in several area galleries, and Sally Stang will exhibit pressed flower collages.

"Woman Reassembled," an exhibit of sculpture and scrolls featuring the work of artist Gyuri Hollosy, will be on display at The Williams Collection Gallery, 6 Olden Lane, through June 30.

Also on display are new paintings and sculpture by gallery artists William Bock, Jules Engels, George Pissarro, Lillian Schwartz, and Loura Van Der Meule.

Gallery hours are Tuesdays from 11 to 4 and by appointment.

Winners of Educational Testing Service's annual photography contest will be on display at ETS's Conant Gallery through Tuesday.

The seven winners, selected from among 59 entries, represent both amateur and professional categories. Grand prize winner is Marilyn Scasserra of Hopewell, who received a $75 prize for her photograph of a woman and a horse.

Other area winners include Barbara Suomi of Princeton Junction and Seth Sieroff of Lawrenceville.

THIS WOOD TURNING, by Ric Stang, will be included in an exhibit at the Lewis School, Bayard Lane, on June 2 and 3. Mr. Stang will demonstrate wood turning at 1 and 4.

Upset by Hofstra Leaves Tiger Lacrosse Team Looking For Way to Beat Johns Hopkins for First Time Since '66

It is easy to speculate about how a team will finish while its season is just beginning, or while it's only half over. But it is only when the campaign is truly completed that we can evaluate what kind of season it really was. This past week, the final week for most Princeton University sports teams, provided us with such a view. It was, nonetheless, a week of heralded triumphs and near-tragedies, of strong finishes and stumbling collapses.

The men's lacrosse team (10-4, 4-2) survived a potentially devastating loss to Hofstra, receiving the 10th seed in the NCAA Division I tournament. The Tigers will play at seventh-seeded Johns Hopkins this Wednesday.

CAN THEY BREAK ANOTHER STREAK? Tiger lacrosse coach Bill Tierney and senior tri-captains Tom Barnds, Paul DiBello and John Kenny, find their team matched against Johns Hopkins in the NCAA first round Wednesday. The Tigers, who had lost 22 straight to Cornell before halting that losing streak two weeks ago, have dropped 24 consecutive contests to the Blue Jays, dating back to 1966. The game, which starts at 4 p.m., will be broadcast on WPRB. (Bobby Chang photo, The Daily Princetonian)

Baseball (23-18, 11-7 EIBL) wound up its rather mediocre season by splitting a twinbill with Lafayette. The Tigers also defeated St. Francis last week, while dropping a close pair to national power North Carolina.

Earlier last week, the men's tennis squad (12-7, 8-1 EITA) was trounced by Harvard, 8-1, on Tuesday, ending Tiger hopes for an EITA title. A 6-2 victory over Dartmouth the following day allowed Princeton to finish the season in second place — one game behind the first-place Crimson. No one from the overachieving men's tennis team will compete at the NCAAs, but senior Diana Gardner from Princeton's EITA champion women's tennis team is in Gainesville, Fla., this week to compete in the singles competition at the women's NCAA tourney.

Women's Crew Tops

The women's crew team reaffirmed that it is indeed the best in the nation by capping off an undefeated season with a first-place finish in the varsity race at the Eastern Sprints in New Preston, Conn., on Sunday. Also finishing first in its race was the novice fours boat.

The men's heavyweight and lightweight teams will participate in their respective EARC sprints this weekend in Worcester, Mass.

Nothing changed for the softball team (15-21-1, 6-1-1 Ivy) as its season thankfully came to a close. Cindy Cohen's troops finished their first year without an Ivy championship by dropping a pair to Adelphi, 2-1 and 3-2, last Friday at 1895 Field. Rookie Stacie Bonner was racked for 12 hits in seeing her record fall to 7-9 in the first game, while a two-run error cost junior Lori Dickerson (4-7) in the second.

Princeton won its share of blue ribbons at the Princeton-Adidas Invitational Track & Field Meet held Saturday at Palmer Stadium. Senior Peter Seley won the hammer throw and classmate Al Dyer captured the long jump title, while junior Michael Carpenter outleaped the competition in the pole vault.

Other winners included sophomore Omar Simmons (800-meter run) and senior Matthew Meinz (3000-meter steeplechase). Sophomore Tricia Lennox (100-meter dash) was the only Tiger to take first in a women's event during the meet, which featured top collegiate as well as former collegiate competitors.

Sloppy, Sloppy

Whew! Bill Tierney's lacrosse squad was holding its collective breath after dropping a 7-6 decision to unranked Hofstra Friday night. In a tight contest, Princeton overcame a 4-2 deficit to take a 5-4 lead late in the third quarter. After Hofstra rebounded to build a 6-5 advantage, senior middie Mark Ames notched his fourth tally of the game to tie it at 6-6.

But Hofstra's Brian Cook broke the tie with just under seven minutes left by putting a shot past sophomore netminder Jim Ardrey. Princeton, which had played an uncharacteristically sloppy game, failed to obtain the equalizer in the closing minutes.

There was much anxiety regarding whether the loss would drop the seventh-ranked Orange and Black out of the running for an NCAA tournament bid. But those fears were relieved Sunday afternoon when the selection committee announced that Princeton would receive the 10th seed in the 12-team field. The opponent? Seventh-seeded Johns Hopkins (6-4).

Princeton met Hopkins in its opening game this year, but was blown into Chesapeake Bay by the Bluejays, 20-8. At the time, Princeton players blamed the loss on cockiness. The Tigers rebounded and went on to defeat three Top 10 teams, losing only to highly-regarded Harvard and Yale before the Hofstra loss.

Hopkins, meanwhile, struggled after the Princeton game, hovering around the No. 10 spot for most of the season. But a big win over Towson State redeemed the Bluejays in the selection committee's eyes, apparently enough so to earn a first-round home game.

The rematch against Hopkins was greeted with excitement by several Tigers Sunday. They feel that they didn't play to their potential in the earlier meeting this year, or in their loss to Hopkins last year. Considering the common belief that the Bluejays' seeding is a bit high, Princeton may have benefited from this pairing; otherwise, the Orange and Black could be playing Massachusetts, which garnered the eighth seed and is a team with which the Tigers are not familiar.

The Princeton-JHU game will be played Wednesday in Baltimore, Md. Should Princeton emerge victorious, it would journey to New Haven, Conn., to face Ivy League co-champion Yale (15-1), the No. 2 seed, on Sunday. Yale knocked off the Tigers, 16-12, earlier this year. The Final

All-Ivy Lacrosse

All-Ivy lacrosse selections, as voted by the league's seven coaches, were announced Monday, and Princeton has placed one man on the first team, two on the second, and two more received honorable mention.

Another highlight was the selection of the Tiger freshman Torr Marro as the league's Rookie of the Year. Senior Midfielder John Kenny joined five players from Yale, two from Harvard and one each from Cornell and Brown on the first team.

Justin Tortolani, a sophomore attackman, and Tom Barnds, a senior defenseman, were picked for the second team. Honorable mention went to sophomore goalie Jim Ardry and senior midfielder Paul DiBello.

Here's a famous sports story about Mother's Day with a strange coincidence ... On Mother's Day, 1939, future Hall of Fame pitcher Bob Feller brought his mother to Chicago so she could see him pitch for the first time in the big leagues ... In the game, Feller threw a pitch and the batter fouled it off, hitting a spectator in the stands ... Of all the thousands of people there, who did that foul ball hit? ... Ironically, on Mother's Day, it hit Feller's mother ... Feller raced over to the stands, made sure his mother was okay after some quick first aid — and then he returned to the mound and struck out the batter!

Four will be held at Rutgers on May 26 and 28.

Syracuse (10-0) garnered the No. 1 seed and will play the winner of the UMass - Brown duel. Brown (10-4), which lost to Princeton in overtime this year, owns the ninth seed. No. 3 Loyola (9-2) will host the winner of the first round game pitting No. 6 Virginia (9-4) and No. 11 Rutgers (8-4).

The Scarlet Knights also fell to the Tigers this year. The other quarterfinal will match No. 4 North Carolina (11-3) against the winner of today's game between Ivy co-champ and fifth-seeded Harvard (11-2) and 12th-seeded Notre Dame (9-6), the token midwest representative in the tourney.

Wacky Twinbill Split

The baseball team's season ended, appropriately, with a twinbill split. And what a wacky split it was. The Tigers scored two runs in the opener and won. They scored 12 in the nightcap and lost.

Senior Ed Hockenbury's RBI single in the third inning broke a 1-1 tie and gave Princeton a 2-1 victory in the opener at Lafayette. Senior captain Matt Noone (4-5) allowed seven hits in earning the complete game victory.

The Orange and Black jumped out to a 4-0 lead in the first inning of the nightcap, before Lafayette cut the lead to 4-3. Each team scored three runs in the fifth and five in the sixth to make the score 12-11, Tigers, entering the final frame. But Mike Meeca, who had a grand slam and 7 RBI in the game, drove in the winning runs on a two-run single with no outs in the seventh. Sophomore Kevin Butterfield (4-2) took the loss in relief of senior Dan McPhee.

In the home finale Friday, senior Joe Sawyer (6-2) tossed a four-hit shutout at St. Francis as the Tigers rolled to a 10-0 victory. Noone hit his first homer of the year for Princeton.

A doubleheader last Thursday with North Carolina, the 13th-ranked team in the nation and Atlantic Coast Conference regular season champion, turned out to be surprisingly close. In the opener, freshman Todd Taylor (2-4) scattered nine hits over 6 1/3 innings, but Princeton errors in the fifth and sixth frames allowed the Tarheels to break open a 1-1 game and turn it into a 5-1 victory. Michael Hoog (8-2), a 1986 draftee of the New York Mets and the ace of the UNC staff, got the win.

The nightcap featured a tremendous pitcher's duel between two of the lesser pitchers on each staff — Princeton's rookie Matt Iseman (1-1) and UNC's Frank Mooney (3-2). In fact, pitching against the regular Tarheel lineup, Iseman tossed a four-hit complete game. And only one of those hits left the infield — a two-run triple in the sixth inning by Steve Estroff, providing UNC with a 2-0 win.

If nothing else, Thursday's doubleheader proved that the Tigers can hang even with the best of them. What was particularly pleasing, and bodes well for the future, was that coach Tom O'Connell started two freshman pitchers, and they both responded with stellar performances.

Last Week in Lacrosse; Hun 1-2; PHS Was 2-1

In lacrosse action last week, the Hun team, suffering more perhaps from a lack of concentration than ability, dropped two of three games, while PHS, pointing toward the State competition, was not overly impressive in winning two of three.

Hun bowed to Pingry, 10-8, and to Clifton, 8-6, and edged Livingston, 4-3. "I think Clifton and Livingston were games in which we could have been more competitive," said Hun coach Dave Fans. The Raiders, he felt, were not able to sustain a level of concentration in the contests.

"If we don't concentrate against Blair in the tournament, it's going to be a long day. "It's a problem we've been dealing with all season." Hun is currently 10-5.

Against Pingry, Scott Gordon and Dale Beach combined for five goals while George Cole, Todd Coyer and Ted Curvy added single goals.

Joe Tinervan had a pair of goals and Gordon, Cole, Beach and Curvy all scored once in the loss to Clifton. Coyer, two goals, and Cole and Tinervan scored in the victory over Livingston.

Five players have accounted for all but 11 of Hun's goals this year. Cole and Gordon each have 20, Beach and Tinervan 19 each and Coyer, 15.

Season's Finale for PHS

After playing three games last week, the Princeton High lacrosse team has one regular-season contest left. The Little Tigers will end their season this Wednesday at Johnson Regional High.

In sandwiching a 13-6 win over Voorhees and an 8-7 victory over St. Joseph's Friday around an 8-3 loss to Summit, the Little Tigers own a 10-4 record and have lived up to coach Jim Harris's pre-season prediction that the team would win ten games.

Harris said he expects to learn this week who will be Princeton's first opponent in the State competition and where the game will be played.

The first round will start on Saturday. "We may get a bye but I'm not expecting it," said Harris. "I think our loss to Summit affected that."

Harris's main concern is to have his team peak mentally for tournament. "We didn't play well against Summit or St. Joe's," he said.

Tad Kinchla and Tom Murray, the scoring leaders for PHS all season, were again instrumental in leading Princeton to its two wins last week.

Black Monday for Hun In Baseball, Lacrosse

It was Black Monday for the Hun School, as both the Raider baseball and lacrosse teams were eliminated in State tournament games.

The Hun baseball team faced Lawrenceville in the semi-finals of the Prep State 'A' Tournament and were beaten, 5-2, by the Big Red team. With the win, Lawrenceville will meet St. Benedict's Monday at Princeton University's Clark Field for the Prep A title.

Last year, in the Prep A championship game, Hun had blanked Lawrenceville, 7-0, on a one-hitter by Pat Murphy to win its first State title since 1974. Coach Bill McQuade's squad could not make lightning strike twice in a row, however.

Hun started off with a 2-0 lead in the first inning when Cecil Boone unloaded a double to deep right field to score leadoff batter Tom Chicaccio who had singled and pitcher Tom Vogler who had walked. Sadly for the Raiders, that was to be Hun's total offense for the game.

Lee Klein, the Larries pitcher, struck out nine and allowed just three more hits the rest of the way, including second hits by Chicaccio and Boone.

In throwing off-speed pitches and strikes, Lee, said McQuade, "kept us off balance the rest of the game."

Vogler, in turn, managed to stifle Lawrenceville for four innings but Larry coach Champ Attlee sensed the Hun veteran was tiring. The home team reached Vogler for all its runs in the fifth.

Two walks and a single produced one run. Catcher Matt Pisano then jumped on a Vogler fast ball for a two-run triple that gave Lawrenceville the lead. Lawrenceville added another run when DH Dave Stewart lashed another triple, scoring Pisano.

VOGLER TAKES A CUT: Mike Vogler of the Hun School takes a cut in Saturday's victory over visiting Lawrence High in opening-round Mercer County Tournament game. Vogler doubled in two runs in 11-8 victory.

Sports

Hun, now 8-6, will finish up its regular season with games against Wardlaw this Wednesday and Princeton Day School on Friday, both starting at 4 at the Hun field.

This weekend, Hun is participating in the second round of the Mercer County Tournament where it is seeded sixth.

Fails to Hold Lead

"Pleased with the way we played; disappointed that we weren't able to hold on," is the way Hun coach Dave Faus summed up his team's 5-4 loss to Blair Academy in Blairstown.

By winning, Blair, seeded second, will meet top-seeded Lawrenceville Monday in the finals of the Prep A State tournament.

Hun, seeded third in the event, led, 2-1, at halftime on goals by Ted Dalton and Dale Beach. It was tied at 4 at the end of three periods after Todd Coyer and George Cole scored for Hun and Blair scored three goals, including two by Geoff Samuel.

In the final period, Hun was held scoreless and Samuel scored his third and winning goal for Blair, which increased its record to 12-1. Hun left with a 10-6 record.

"It was a good game and we gave it our best, but, unfortunately, we lost a close one," said Faus. "Blair is a strong team. We played well."

Hun has two regular season games left against Bridgewater West and St. Joseph's.

Raiders Defeat Lawrence, Advance in MCT Tourney

After carving out a seemingly safe 9-3 lead after three innings, the Hun School baseball team held on to outlast visiting Lawrence Saturday to advance to the second round in the Mercer County Tournament.

Eliminated in the first round last year when it was upset by Princeton High, Hun will meet third-seeded Nottingham for the first time this year in the second round on Saturday at 1 at the Northstars' diamond. Should Hun prevail in the afternoon game, it would then meet the winner of the Notre Dame-Peddie contest at 5:30 the same day at Mercer County Park.

Hun coach Bill McQuade commented that he feels the single-day, double-elimination setup this year "definitely hurts the smaller school" like Hun. Hun is seeded sixth in the event.

The veteran McQuade is not concerned about Hun's ability at the plate against Nottingham. "We go in streaks. We can hit anybody. We've gone against quality pitchers and hit the ball so I know we can hit." Against Lawrence, Hun raked three Cardinal pitchers for 13 hits, knocking out their ace, Mark Polakowski, in the third.

On the mound, McQuade conceded that Hun has been less effective. "Our number two and number three pitchers have been struggling," he said. What will decide the outcome, he feels, is whether the top of the order for Hun — Tom Chiacchio, Mike D'Allegro and Mike Vogler, all of whom are enjoying outstanding seasons — can get on base early.

"We Held On"

In its previous start, Hun had been held to four hits in losing an 8-2 deicsion to Hamilton, one of the top teams in the County this year. Against Lawrence, Hun spotted the Cardinals to a 4-0 lead after two innings before batting around and plating six runs in its half of the second. Neither team was finished scoring, however. "It became a matter of who ran out of gas first. We held on," said McQuade.

When Lawrence scored in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings, recalled McQuade, "I felt the game slipping away." D'Allegro's two-run single in the Hun half of the sixth "iced it for us," McQuade added. Tom Vogler, the third of three Hun pitchers, pitched the last 2⅓ innings and blanked Lawrence in the last inning.

D'Allegro, the post-graduate student from Montgomery High, played a pivotal role in the win. "Legs" pitched the middle 2⅓ innings to get the win and had three hits, including a double, drove in four runs and stole two bases.

Chiacchio counted a bases-clearing triple in his two hits, first baseman Cecil Boone and outfielder Andy Aldi each ripped two hits and Vogler and Danny Wilson connected for doubles for Hun.

The Cardinals stumbled when Polakowksi couldn't find the plate in the second inning. He walked five before being lifted. "After Polakowski got the lead, he fell apart," agreed McQuade. "The tail end of the order came through for us."

PDS Girls' Lacrosse Tops Peddie in Quarterfinals

Last Thursday's rain pushed the quarterfinals of the Prep A girls' lacrosse tournament all the way to Monday, but it made no difference for the 9-2 Princeton Day team.

The Panthers had a little trouble with Peddie in their second meeting of the second season, but came up an 11-7 winner, to advance to the semifinals this Thursday. That will be another rematch, but a more difficult one.

SCORE ONE FOR ABUD: Janice Abud scored this one for Princeton Day between two Hopewell Valley defenders.

Coach Kim Bedesem's girls will have to defeat Lawrenceville another time to move into the finals set for Monday at Rutgers Prep. The Red and Black moved into the semis with a 12-6 victory over Montclair-Kimberley Academy. It was a costly one, however. They lost star performer and former PDS student, Laurie Wahlgunda, for the rest of the season with a knee injury.

The Blue and White ripped the Larries 11-4 last month at home, and as the higher seed they'll have the home field advantage again.

A victory there will earn them another shot at the top prep team in the State, Dwight Englewood, which barring a major upset, will also reach the finals. Dwight has beaten both PDS and Lawrenceville in the regular season, taking the measure of the Panthers, 12-9, two weeks ago.

The Peddie game was a spirited contest for both halves with the Falcons hanging close the whole way. After an early 3-3 tie, PDS managed to pull ahead for good, but not by enough that its coach and supporters could completely relax. And Peddie had managed to win only two of 11 games this season.

"I don't think we were looking past them," commented PDS coach Kim Bedesem. "It's hard to play on a Monday, and it's hard to play in the heat. On any given day, any team can win."

One positive note for PDS was the versatility in its offense. Eight players scored goals, including Jenny Myers, Liz Bylin, Julie Howard, Sarah Berkman, Edith Roberts, Sita Frederick, Meghan Bencze and Janice Abud. Peddie actually outshot PDS 21-18, but Nika Skvir had a good game in goal, blocking 14 of them, and made a couple of key saves when Peddie rallied briefly in the second half.

Princeton Day closed out its regular season last Friday with a 14-9 triumph over Hopewell Valley. The Bulldogs remained in contention throughout the contest, but could not match every goal scored by the potent

ROBERTS ON THE RUN: Princeton Day's Edith Roberts heads for the Hopewell Valley goal in the first half of Friday's game. The Panthers took the measure of the Bulldogs, 15-10.

The finals of the first doubles also pitted PHS against PDS in a rematch, and the results were the same. The Panthers' David Ragsdale and Jason Hollander defeated Jason Cohen and Brent Breithaupt, 7-6, 6-2, taking the opening set tie-breaker, 7-3.

In a second doubles consolation match, Damon Ross and Matt Goida of PHS defeated Craig White and Greg Mason of Hightstown, 7-5, 6-0.

In the team standings, PHS compiled 33 points, PDS 26 and West Windsor-Plainsboro 24. Peddie was a distant fourth with 12. Thirteen schools participated.

The previous day, PHS defeated Montgomery High, 5-0, for its 13th regular season win. The highlight was Khalaf's 7-6, 6-3 victory over Brian Lloyd at third singles. Both players entered the match undefeated.

The loss was only the second of the season for the Cougars in 14 matches, both losses coming at the hands of the Little Tigers.

Ringland Wins 100 & 200 In Mercer County Meet

Princeton High junior Kesti Ringland was apprehensive about Saturday's Mercer County Track Tournament.

Last year in the event, running for first season (she had competed in lacrosse her first two years) she surprised everyone, including herself, by winning the 100 and 200 sprints in 12.6 and 26.2. "I came into the meet not knowing what to expect. I didn't expect to win," recalled Ringland.

This year, Ringland felt the mental pressure of being the defending champion. Physically, she was fighting a nagging case of asthma. She would have to contend with the pressures alone on the track.

The University of Delaware-bound Ringland proved to be a champion again at the Hamilton High track on Saturday when she won both events again in times of 12.7 and 26.5. She led the PHS girls' team to a second-place finish behind Trenton and at day's end was the lone PHS champion on both the boys' and girls' teams. Trenton dominated both events, the THS girls compiling 121 points to Princeton's 50; the Trenton boys' team topped Notre Dame, 129-83½ for team honors, as the PHS boys' squad finished fifth in a field of 12 teams.

Christine Graves of PHS finished third in the 1,600 meter run and freshman Ailey Penningroth was third in the shot put. The Little Tigers were second behind Trenton in the 4x400 relay.

As expected, Trenton was the team to beat in the boys' competition and no one was able to touch the Tornadoes in the flat races. Rob Ayers won the 400, 800 and 1,600 and teammate Raphael Mack copped both the Panther offense, and were five behind at the final whistle.

Liz Bylin tallied twice and assisted on three other goals to lead PDS. Sarah Berkman, Jenny Myers and Julie Howard also scored twice.

PHS Girls Lose, 4-3, To Mounties in Lacrosse

An 8-1 loser to Montclair earlier in the season, the Princeton High girls' lacrosse team was much tougher in its second meeting with the Mounties.

At Montclair last week, PHS limited the home team to 14 shots on goal but still lost when the Little Tiger offense could produce only three goals. Montclair prevailed by the slimmest of margins, 4-3.

Samantha Skey scored twice for PHS and Piper Darley added a single goal, her tenth of the season. With the loss, the Little Tigers, closing in on one of their more disappointing seasons, fell to 4-8; Montclair won its seventh against three losses and a tie.

PHS will be idle until a Tuesday contest here with Montville. After that, only games with Summit and Morristown remain.

Leschly, Horowitz No. 1 In Mercer Tennis Event

Princeton High seniors Nick Leschly and Dan Horowitz won singles championships last week in the annual Mercer County Tournament to lead the Little Tigers to the team title as well.

For Leschly it was his third MCT singles title and the second year in a row he has won at first singles.

Mixing deft placements with demoralizing passing shots, Leschly neutralized the power game of Ewing's Mike Miller to win in straight sets, 6-2, 6-1. "I count on pressuring him and letting him make the mistakes," said Leschly, who has won more than 100 matches in his high school career.

Horowitz, who is unbeaten this year but is often overshadowed hy the brilliant play of Leschly, defeated Eric Roffman of Peddie to claim the second singles title.

PHS, which has relied on its singles play to win every match but one this year, almost made it a clean sweep in the County tourncy. Sophomore George Khalaf, who had defeated Princeton Day School's Tom Galli in straight sets the week before in a regular season match, faced the top-seeded Galli again in the championship round.

This time Galli was able to redeem himself by defeating Khalaf, 7-6 (7-3), 6-2.

100 and 200 dashes as the undefeated Red and Black squad put on a show.

Princeton claimed two seconds: Vance Liverman in the long jump with a leap of 22-0 and Todd Marrow in the pole vault. Marrow and Chuck Allen of Ewing both cleared 12-0 but Allen was awarded first on fewer misses. Brian Williams finished third in the 110 hurdles with a 15.5 effort.

Preparation Wins

Both Little Tiger teams had prepared for the County meet with impressive regular season wins earlier in the week.

The PHS boys defeated Hamilton, 94-37, and Nottingham, 88-42, in a tri-meet to increase their record to 7-1. The girls walloped Hamilton, 94-27, and Nottingham, 96-25, to remain perfect at 9-0.

The boys swept every flat race except the 3200, captured the 110 hurdles and 1600 relay and won four field events to dominate the Hornets and Northstars.

Davy Kahn won the 100 and 200 dashes in 11.3 and 23.0, while Aaron Burt claimed the 800 in 2:03.8, the first time he had run that event this season. Burt also won the high jump and teamed with Williams, Liverman, and Idris Magette to win the 1600 relay in 3:41.5

Other first-place winners for PHS were Magette (400), Doug Bolender (1600), Williams (110 hurdles, Liverman (long jump), Marrow (pole vault) and Scott Kenfield (javelin).

Coach Becky Mackey's girls won every event but the 100 hurdles and high jump, sweeping the shot put and discus. Ruth Williams, Angela Bryant and Penningroth finished 1-2-3 in the shot and Heidi Applegate, Bryant and Williams finished in that order in the discus. Marcie Procaccini won the javelin by ten feet over teammate Danielle Devereaux, and Nicole Klein won the long jump.

Two of the team's top sprinters continued to excell in their specialities: Ringland won the 100 and 200 sprints, while Graves took the 1600 and 3200 distance races by wide margins. Gaby Kachur won the 400 in 1:09 and Lynn Davies the 800 in 2:46.

PDS Tennis Beats Blair; Prep Tournament Next

Taking an impressive record with it, the Princeton Day tennis team will enter the Prep Tournament Wednesday. The Panthers were 12-2 through play on Monday, with a match against Lawrenceville, rained out twice before, scheduled to be played this past Tuesday.

As usual, powerful Newark Academy will be assured of the top seed, and is the odds-on favorite to win the two-day event. PDS and Montclair Kimberley are expected to fight it out for second place.

In the past seven days, coach Rome Campbell's team added two more victories to its record, beating Blair, 4-1, on Friday, and Ranney, 5-0, on Monday. Scott Newhall was the only player to be beaten at Blair, losing in two sets, 7-5, 6-3.

POST 76 BATTERY: Nick Skover (left) is catcher and Morgan Battle is a pitcher for Post 76 in the major division of the Princeton Youth Baseball Association League. (Georgie Skover photo)

David Suomi won an easy two-setter at number two, and Tom Galli didn't even have to step on the court, gaining a default at three. Jason Hollander and David Ragsdale dropped the first set 7-5, before getting in gear, then won the next two, 6-1, 6-3. Rob and Marc Wirstrom blew through their opponents, 6-1, 6-2.

Last Wednesday play was completed in the Mercer County Tournament with PHS winning as expected. The Little Tigers finished with 33 points to PDS's 26. West Windsor-Plainsboro was third with 24 and all other schools far back.

Despite losing to PHS, revenge was sweet for two Panther players who beat Little Tiger opponents who had defeated them a few days earlier. Galli won the third singles title, knocking off George Khalaf, 6-4, 6-2. Khalaf had beaten Galli in straight sets in their first meeting.

Hollander and Ragsdale turned the tables on Princeton High's Jason Cohen and Brent Breithaupt. Rebounding from a three-set loss the previous week, the PDS duo won a first set tiebreaker, 7-3, and captured the next set with ease, 6-2. The only disappointment of the day came in second doubles where the Wirstrom brothers lost a tough three-set match to Ogidi Obi and Jamie Klitzberg, 7-5, 2-6, 6-4.

Eagles Go Two-for-Two In Youth Baseball Action

In action last week in the Princeton Youth Baseball Assocation league, the Eagles won both their games in the minors.

On Friday, the Eagles routed Maalox Moments, 19-5, as Michael Jardin hit a grand slam and winning pitcher Matt Seidel batted three-for-three. Two days earlier, the Eagles won their first of the season with a 10-4 win over Noliko Foods, as Jardin excelled at the plate again with a homer and two other hits.

In other games Friday, the Elks blanked PIASC, 3-0, behind Ed Speedling who struck out 10 of 12 batters. Jack Paczosa fanned four of six, allowing one hit. OB Raiders defeated Bochini & Bliss, 3-1, led by Michael Kornhauser's three hits and the six-strikeouts-in-three-innings pitching of Matt Rohman.

Engine No. 3 outlasted Noliko Foods, 11-9. Chris Westcott had three hits and two RBIs and John Wash had two hits and three RBIs for the victors. Winning pitcher Adam Staats got help from Rip Rice, who stopped a five-run rally in the sixth by striking out the second batter he faced.

In other games last Wednesday, the Elks stopped Rocky Hill Inn, 15-6, and Post 76 defeated Engine No. 1, 16-5. The Elks were paced by the hitting of Michael Hudley and Andre Wilson and the defensive play of Oliver Sissman and Ben Lowe. Max Wright knocked in five runs for Post 76 with a pair of doubles. Morgan Battle got the win, his first.

Earlier in the week, Post 76 topped PIASC, 9-6, behind the pitching of Richard Wright, who fanned nine, raising his total Ks for the season to 24. Jesse Orleans knocked in three runs.

Jeff Mapps struck out 11 in leading Engine No. 3 to a 9-6 victory over Pedintric Group. He received some help in the last inning from Ryan Bahoshy who struck out three batters to end the game. Michael Kopley, Louis Estrada, and Michael Cortese each rapped two-run doubles for the victors. Cortese had two hits in three at bats, including the game-winner, and drove in three runs.

PDS Lacrosse Wins 10th Beating Pennington 10-3

A day after its dreams of winning at least one round in the Prep A Tournament were shattered by Hun, the Princeton Day lacrosse team recovered its composure.

The Panthers blew out Pennington, 10-3, to capture their 10th victory of the season against three losses. Just two games, Morristown-Beard this past Tuesday, and Montclair-Kimberley Friday, remain on the schedule for the Blue and White, and triumphs in both will assure them of capturing the Bianchi Division championship. That and a 12-3 record would complete a nice turn around in the sport the last two years.

Coach Bob Krueger had been a little worried that the Hun defeat would leave his players open to an upset by a steadily improving Pennington squad. The Raiders, who only recently started to play the sport, have won half their 10 games this spring.

The first two periods were fairly close, with PDS leading by 3-1 after one, and Pennington closing the gap to 4-3 by halftime. However, the second half was all PDS, as the Panthers scored six unanswered goals.

Jim Grey led the way with three goals and an assist. Campbell Levy, Chris Lake and Lucas Altman tallied two apiece and Steve Eaton (aka Steve Fatori) had one. Judd Henderson and Rob Hall split the goaltending duties and had four saves apiece on 15 Pennington shots.

PDS Golfers Finish 3rd In County Tournament

The four members of the Princeton Day golf team shot a combined score of 335 on the par-72 Mountain View course last Wednesday, good for third place in the Mercer County Tournament.

That was 15 strokes behind Nottingham, which successfully defended the title it won a year ago, and two back of cross town rival Princeton High. Fourteen schools competed in the event, which was held for the 25th time.

Stuart Katzoff, who won the individual title in 1988 as a freshman, shot a fine 77, good for second place behind West Windsor Plainsboro's Nick Cifelli. He captured the individual title for the second consecutive year with a 73.

Katzoff's teammates were further back in the pack. Dan Graziano finished 14th with an 84, Dave Maziarz shot an 88, and Dan Helmick was hurt by a 56 on the first nine, and finished with a 104. Katzoff had a 38 on the front nine, and 39 on the back.

Two days earlier PDS lost its second dual match of the season, finishing five strokes behind Episcopal Academy on its home course in Merion, outside of Philadelphia. The final score was 291 to 296.

PDS will close its season this Wednesday with the Prep Tournament at Peddie.

Ficarro's Stays Perfect In Women's Softball Play

The Princeton-based Steve Ficarro's Auto Body women's softball team last week improved its record to 5-0 in the Mercer County Women's League with a 10-3 victory over the Misfits. Thursday's game against Miller Lite was rained out. This Thursday Ficarro's will play Z&W Mazda at 6:30 p.m. on Field No. 3 at Mercer County Park.

Against the Misfits, Ficarro's scored three runs in the top of the first inning, as leadoff batter Trisha Kane kept her streak of hitting and scoring in the first inning intact at three games. Also scoring in the inning were Diane Kelly and Grace Durland (three-for-four), both driven in by Donna Nicholson, who also had three hits. Ficarro's added another run in the top of the third, when Jamie Burress drove in Nicholson.

In the bottom of the inning, two Ficarro errors gave the Misfits two runs and cut Ficarro's lead to 4-2. Ficarro's, however, plated two more runs in the top of the fifth to go ahead 6-2, as Kane and Kelly were driven in by Durland and Nicholson.

Ficarro's poured it on in the top of the seventh, scoring four times, as Durland and Nicholson singled, Dee Discavage drove in Durland with a hit, Nicholson scored on an error, Beth Ault drove in Discavage with a double, and Karen Sprague drove in Ault. The Misfits managed one run in the last of the seventh, to make the final count 10-3.

"IT'S A GOOD FEELING," said PHS coach Larry Mansier, after his baseball team had upset Ewing in the Mercer County Tournament.

"We kept coming back. We were getting the two-out hits. We ran the bases. It was nice to watch the other guys throw the ball around.

"Everybody seemed to get a hit all down the line when it counted," Mansier continued. "It was nice to see. Everybody shared in the win. It's a good feeling."

In a game in which everyone contributed, Mansier said if there had to be one standout, it would have to be Luis Estrada. The veteran let it be known before the game that he wanted to pitch. Mansier handed him the ball and said, "Let's go."

Estrada responded by going the distance on the mound, striking out five and limiting the 9-6 Blue Devils to six hits. At the plate, he banged out three hits and drove in a run. "He got some big hits when it mattered," said Mansier. Estrada is clubbing the ball at a .375 clip for the Little Tigers this spring.

Then there was sophomore leftfielder Ben Stentz who had four hits in five at bats, the first four-hit performance by a Little Tiger this year. Matt Baum had three hits, Scott Petrone a pair of doubles. Ironically, the only Little Tiger not to get a hit was Dave Long, whose one-out single in the fifth was the only hit surrendered by Hopewell Valley hurler Tim Van Dyke the previous day.

After PHS reached Ewing starter Chris Horn for a pair of runs in the first, Ewing came right back to tie it on a collage of walks, a wild pitch and passed ball. Recalled Mansier, "I thought — here we go again."

But Princeton's bats (16 hits) were alive this day. The Blue and White added two more runs in the third, four in the fourth and two more in the fifth to take a commanding 10-3 lead.

Ewing was without the services of Wes Bridges, who is currently the County batting leader with a .487 average, but PHS, Mansier pointed out, was playing without its power hitter, Tom Shockley, lost for the season with a hand injury, and outfielder Jim Brophy, sidelined with the measles.

In the two years he has been involved with high school ball, Mansier commented that he is convinced that on any day any team can beat any other team. "I've seen the best teams get drilled; I've seen the best teams make stupid plays."

The bottom line: a great win for Princeton High — its fourth, for a four-fold increase over last year — advancement in the Mercer County Tournament, and a chance to don its killer cape one more time.

PHS Nine Scores Upset To Advance in Tourney

Maybe they should double Larry Mansier's coaching salary.

Seems the second-year Princeton High baseball mentor is coaching two teams. There is the regular season team that has been largely impotent this spring, the one that lost a 13-0 one-hitter to Hopewell Valley on Friday. Then there's the ferocious Little Tiger tournament team, the one that stunned fourth-seeded Ewing 11-5 the next day in the opening round of the Mercer County Tournament — a team that bore no resemblance to the one that had been clubbed, 23-4, five days earlier by the same Ewing team.

In winning, PHS — seeded 13th among the 14 teams that started the tourney — advances to a second-round meeting with Steinert on Saturday at 1 at the Spartans' field. Fifth-seeded Steinert advanced with a 6-2 win over 12th-seeded Hightstown in the opening round.

Should PHS maintain its killer role in the tournament and defeat Steinert, it would go on to meet the winner of the West Windsor-Hamilton contest at 5:30 the same day at Mercer County Park in the semi-finals. Hamilton is seeded No. 1 in the tourney and drew an opening-round bye.

Last year when PHS went on to the second round in the MCT, after upsetting Hun in the opening round for its only win of the season, it was hammered 15-0 by Steinert in the second round. "We're looking forward to a little payback," said Mansier.

Two other tournament games on Saturday pit sixth-seeded Hun against third-seeded Nottingham and second-seeded Peddie against seventh-seeded Notre Dame. The winners will clash in the other semi-final at 5:30 at Mercer Park.

"I Have No Idea"

"I have no idea," replied Mansier, when asked what he felt accounted for Saturday's dramatic turnaround against Ewing. "We had just lost 13-0 to Hopewell and gotten one hit. The kids were disgusted.

All I know is they were a different team before they got on the bus; they were a different team on the bus, and they were a different team after they got off the bus. The guys were determined.

concert would have to be held in Palmer Stadium. As it turned out, rain forced the concert inside Jadwin Gym, and the fireworks were postponed for several nights because of rain. They were finally held in Community Park as a joint American Independence and Bastille Day celebration.

Many people were not happy about the idea of the concert and fireworks in Palmer Stadium. Box suppers were allowed, but that did not seem the same as sprawling out on the grass of the University field with family and friends, where no one, especially young children, felt constricted as they would by concrete seats.

Moreover, the event caused an enormous traffic jam — not only of cars coming to the site and trying to leave afterward, but also of people trying to get into the field before the concert and out of it afterward.

According to Mrs. Munson, the concert organizers began looking for another site even before the University had decided where it should go this year. Mercer County Park, located off Old Trenton Road (Route 535) in West Windsor, seemed to offer a good solution.

"It has a wonderful picnic area and a very beautiful lake," Mrs. Munson remarks. "The park people are very happy to have us and have been very cooperative. I think they will be able to have a good handle on traffic. The orchestra is delighted; the manager came down and looked it over."

Moreover, the number that can attend is "unlimited," in Mrs. Munson's view. The Princeton/Mercer Chapter of the NJSO League has teamed up with the Westminster Conservatory as a co-sponsor, organizer and beneficiary of the pops concert. Kathleen Grammer, director of Westminster Conservatory, will organize it this year, and the proceeds will go partly to fund children's concerts by the NJSO and partly to benefit the Conservatory's scholarship program.

Another change is that the Princeton Area Chamber of Commerce will not be involved. In the past the Chamber has provided the fireworks at a cost of about $10,000. This year the Princeton/Mercer Chapter and the Conservatory will be asking area corporations and individuals to chip in to pay for the fireworks. "But there will be fireworks," Mrs. Munson says, adding: "I don't know where people got the idea there would not be."

The ticket prices will remain the same, $6 in advance for adults, $4 in advance for senior citizens and students, and $2 for children under 12. Prices go up $1 at the door.

Michael Pratt will conduct, and the program will be announced. For ticket information call 921-2663.

divided as to the answers. At the end, the Housing Board was instructed to develop cost "scenarios" based on an all-rental project of 72 units and 96 units, and an all-sales development of 72 units and 96 units.

John Kelsey, chairman of the Housing Board, told Committee at the outset that the more units the more there could be economies of scale. Mr. Kelsey reminded Committee that in giving its most recent time extension for accepting the grant, HUD has stipulated that the project must be under way by November 1.

He said the Housing Board thinks that "probably the best thing we can do is to build an all-affordable housing project in a turn-key fashion." Redding Circle was a turn-key project, financed by HUD but built under contract by a developer, Benedict Yedlin, and turned over to the Housing Authority when completed.

Mr. Kelsey said that there was some concern on the Housing Board that accepting the $1.6 million HUD grant and building those units in a mixed project along with other units could end up costing the Township a great deal more "if we follow all the HUD rules."

A "Social Policy"

Tom Fulmer, vice chairman of the Housing Board and a member of the subcommittee that has been wrestling with the West Drive issues, told Committee that one of the things the committee had been struggling with was the notion of the 50/50 mix both as social policy and as economic policy. "It's not really up to us to determine social policy," Mr. Fulmer said.

Economic viability — or how to get the most units at the least cost — is also a concern. Bill Swain, a member of the Housing Board who has spent 20 years as a private developer, most recently with the Linpro organization, told Committee that it takes the same effort from a volunteer housing board to do a 48-unit project as a 96-unit project.

However, the infrastructure costs are the same for both size projects, which pulls up the cost per unit for the smaller project "substantially," Mr. Swain said.

In terms of rental versus sales units, he told Committee that "the buying public doesn't particularly want renters" in the same development, and that he would strongly urge a project that is either all-rental or all sales units. He also remarked that a density of 12 units to the acre "is not a particularly high density," and that an attractive project can be developed at that number.

Mr. Swain suggested that in terms of economics, low income rentals "make sense" because State grants, federal tax credits and a mortgage would be available to make the project "stand on its own or come close." Market rentals would come close to breaking even, but there would not be the rate of return expected, and moderate rentals would incur a gap between cost and rental.

He said there is no market right now for market sales. Moderate-cost sales would come close to breaking even, and low-income sales would lose money. In Mr. Swain's view, an all-rental project at a 50/50 low income/market rental "would have a reasonable chance of coming close to being a self-sustaining project if done carefully and if there were no land costs." He said his assumptions were based on small one- and two-bedroom units and "normal" site conditions.

Foregoing HUD Grant

The HUD grant stipulates larger family units of three and four bedrooms. Mr. Swain said, "If you accept the HUD grant you'd better not consider for-sale units" on the tract. Committeeman Tom Poole agreed. Deputy Mayor Phyllis Marchand was inclined toward an all-rental project, including the HUD housing, but Mr. Poole said he would not like to abandon the possibility of a sales operation and foregoing the HUD grant.

Mr. Woodbridge was reluctant to settle on density or mix without knowing more about what the costs would be. He pointed out that an all-rental project would have continuing carrying costs and maintenance responsibilities.

Mayor Kate Litvack noted that at Princeton Community Village a mix of low-, moderate- and almost-market rentals has been achieved as family income has gone up. Renters are not asked to leave when their income exceeds the amount at which they originally qualified; instead they pay more in rent. Karen Slaby said this also is the case at all the Housing Authority projects, a mixed blessing because it decreases the HUD subsidy and makes major maintenance dependent on special "modernization" grants.

Mayor Litvack argued for keeping the 50/50 ratio of low and market rate occupants on the grounds that it "works well, makes for a stable neighborhood and gives the town a broad spectrum of housing." Mayor Litvack did not seem to have a strong opinion as to whether West Drive should be all rental or all sales. She voted for a motion made by Mrs. Marchand and Mr. Godfrey that favored accepting the HUD grant and making the project all rental but asked for information on costs at 72 units and at 96 units.

That motion was not endorsed by the two Republicans, Mr. Poole and Mr. Woodbridge, who put forth a second motion asking for similar information in terms of an all-sales project. Mayor Litvack supported this motion, Mrs. Marchand and Mr. Godfrey did not.

Thus both motions passed, 3 to 2. The Housing Board may not have gotten the answers as to density and mix it was seeking, but it went away having been given plenty of work to do to develop these different "scenarios."

"You've just spent your housing budget on planning," Mr. Swain remarked as the board left the meeting room.

Fellowship in Prayer Marks 40th Anniversary

Fellowship in Prayer, a nonprofit foundation with headquarters at 291 Witherspoon Street, will celebrate its 40th anniversary Tuesday, June 5, at the Nassau Club. A reception starting at 6 with music by the Princeton String Quartet, will be followed by dinner at 7.

Featured speakers will include the president of Fellowship in Prayer, Paul Walsh, Dr. Arthur Caliandro, Marble Collegiate Church in New York City, and Dr. David W. Vikner, president of the United Board for Christian Higher Education in Asia. The invocation will be given by the Rev. Joseph Williamson, dean of the Princeton University Chapel, and the benediction by Irene King, of the Aquinas Institute.

Fellowship in Prayer, which publishes a journal of the same name, is an interfaith organization whose sole purpose is to promote the practice of prayer and meditation. Area authors who contribute regularly to the publication, edited by Mary Ford-Grabowsky of Princeton, include Dr. William F. Haynes, librarian Barbara Ackerman, poet Elizabeth Socolow, and novelist Deborah McKay.

Trustees and advisors include Howard S. Ende, director of legal services at Princeton University; Dr. Williamson, dean of the University Chapel; Princeton Professor Emeritus James T.C. Liu; Frederick J. Olessi, vice president for Development and College Relations at Rider College, and Ram Kolluri, director of Individual Asset Planning Corp., Princeton.

Tickets to the dinner are $25 per person, and reservations may be made by calling Sallie Jesser, office manager of Fellowship in Prayer, at 924-6863.

Jewish Choir Set For Spring Concert

LaShir, the Jewish Choir of Princeton, will present its annual Spring Concert Sunday, June 3, at 7:30 at the Jewish Center.

The choir, which will sing songs in Hebrew, Yiddish and Ladino, is under the direction of Raanan Shefa, former assistant conductor of the National Choir of Israel.

The Yuval Choir of Queens, which Mr Shefa also conducts, will join LaShir in singing several selections. LaShir has sung with other choirs, most recently at the Princeton Interfaith Choral Festival, but this is the first time it will be joined by another choir in its annual concert.

The concert is an opportunity to hear secular and religious Jewish music — from the Renaissance through the present — outside the traditional synagogue setting.

Tickets are at $5, and may be reserved by calling Robin Wallack at 921-1550 during the day, or Barbara Gantwerk at 452-8130 in the evening. Tickets may also be purchased at the door.

The U-Store Offers the Best in Education:

Phi Beta Kappa in American Life: The First Two Hundred Years. Richard Nelson Current, Oxford University Press, $29.95.

Phi Beta Kappa, America's foremost honor society, is the forerunner and prototype of all other such groups as well as all Greek-letter fraternities and sororities. Of course, the history of Phi Beta Kappa is in many ways a history of education in America, and as Current charts the society's development he also provides a fascinating portrait of American universities the friction over the shift away from the classics toward liberal education and the electives system, the growing respect for scholarship among students (in 1917, he points out, the most socially acceptable grade was a C, the so-called "gentleman's grade"), and the unprecedented enrollment after World War II. Current does not whitewash the past He examines the society's grudging admission of women and blacks, the uproar over Paul Robeson's selection for the editorial board of American Scholar, and many other controversies.

This glorious hillside on a picturesque lane in northwest Princeton seems to have been destined for this exceptional Contemporary. Completely secluded by a luxuriant woodland, it is approached by a long winding driveway. The exterior of natural cypress, stone and glass blends with its surroundings and the generous use of glass brings them indoors. An iron gate opens to the flagstone patio with a lower level entrance to a charming foyer, three bedrooms and a bath. Wide open stairs with skylights lead to a magnificent panelled room - 66 feet long. The living area is centered around a huge raised hearth, floor-to-ceiling fireplace with a library/study on one side and the dining room on the other. The sparkling remodeled kitchen would delight any chef. The master bedroom, dressing room and bath are luxurious. A fifth bedroom also has a new private bath. For family enjoyment - a large family room with stone fireplace opens to a flagstone terrace and a free-form custom pool. In all - 5000 square feet of space for pleasant living in an idyllic setting. $649,000

A MAGNIFICENT WESTERN PRINCETON WILLIAMSBURG COLONIAL set on 2.33 acres of woodland with beautiful mature landscaping. Inside is a warm slate entry foyer with a front-to-back sunken living room with fireplace. The family room also has a fireplace and built-in bookcases with a French door to the flagstone patio. The formal dining room is accented with grasscloth and is convenient to the recently expanded eat-in-kitchen which has top-of-the-line appliances and a great breakfast area. Upstairs, are four ample bedrooms including a step-down master suite plus room for expansion of another suite above the garage. It's a real find in this market, a house with character and priced to sell.
$749,000

A THREE BEDROOM RANCH in the Princeton Western Section has just come on the market in a lovely estate area. The living room has a fireplace, the kitchen has Quaker Maid cabinets and there is a full basement for future finishing off. All on over an acre of land, a veritable sylvan setting with lots of nice neighbors.
Priced to sell! $279,000

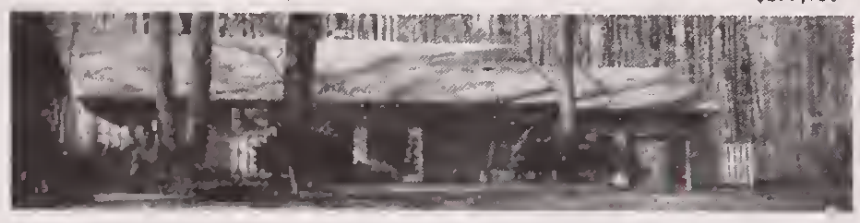
A PRINCETON DUPLEX WORTH SEEING. Close to everything in town. One side has four bedrooms, the other two. Needs some work, but it's worth restoring and has lots of potential. Call today!
$275,000

THIS SPACIOUS FOUR BEDROOM, 2½ BATH COLONIAL in "move-in" condition, on a cul-de-sac, is a "must see" only minutes from Princeton in nearby Montgomery. The home is beautifully situated on over an acre which includes open spaces, mature plantings and fruit trees. The downstairs features a bright, large family kitchen, laundry room and bath, family room with fireplace, formal living room and good sized dining room. Full basement and attic. Four family bedrooms and two baths including a large master suite with bath complete the upstairs. This is the perfect family home — call now — it could be yours!$274,500

PUBLIC OPEN HOUSE — SUNDAY, MAY 20th, 12-4 P.M.
24 Lenape Lane
DIRECTIONS: RT. 518 to Hollow Road to Lenape Lane.

ON A QUIET CUL-DE-SAC, A CONTEMPORARY THAT PARTAKES OF THE WOODS ITSELF IN ITS DESIGN. Inside the welcome foyer is a spiral staircase with a living room with fireplace and cathedral ceiling to the right and a den with fireplace to the left. The formal dining room has both a bank of china cabinets plus a summer veranda. And the eat-in-kitchen has lots of light, massive beams and a large greenhouse at the work area plus a central island. Still, there is a full family room with bath and a ground-floor bedroom for guests. Upstairs, is a spacious master suite with his and her studies plus a laundry room, as well, and yet two more bedrooms and a full bath. Cathedral ceilings abound in this gem with a sheer window wall on the woods which are left in the natural state. Space, quietness, beauty, and a fine communion with nature. $749,000

THIS CLASSIC CENTER-HALL COLONIAL has 3,500 sq. ft. of living space on three verdant acres in horse country. Inside there's a two-story entrance foyer with Palladian window, a sunken living room, a step-down family room with fireplace, a spacious country kitchen with breakfast room, center island, and solid oak cabinets, a study, and a large formal dining room. Upstairs, there's a master suite with 2 person jacuzzi and shower, 5 closets including a walk-in, and three more family bedrooms. The many extras include double heating and air conditioning units, moldings, custom window treatments, driveway lights, a two-level deck and more.
$399,000



A CUSTOM HOME IN THE PRINCETON WOODS with pretty rock walls and boulders strewn all about. It has a certain Scandinavian charm with simple clear lines in the rooms, wooded accents, and even rock textures here and there. The living room has a vaulted ceiling and stone fireplace. There's a warm Florida room overlooking the woods, a wonderful basement area, and a skylighted loft with built-ins. Come stop by woods with your Firestone agent.
$299,000

A CUSTOM 3 BEDROOM PRINCETON CAPE COD featuring a living room with fireplace, upstairs bedroom with fireplace, a ground-floor master suite and warm, personal human scaled rooms that are charming. Situated on a mature lot, just a few minutes from community facilities, schools and shopping. Built by an architect for himself, and now for you.

THIS NEWLY EXPANDED 3 BEDROOM, 2 BATH PRINCETON CAPE features a recently renovated interior, including the modern kitchen, slate floored family room with bay, and an interesting living room-dining room combination with fireplace and built-in bookcases. There are new windows and roof, refinished hardwood floors, and lots of closet space and storage. Add to this a beautiful enclosed back yard, an attached 2-car garage and a full basement, and you have a lot of pluses. All on a quiet tree-lined street just a short walk to schools and shopping and in excellent condition.
